Councilmen Ask Studies On Priorities

Federal Agency Funds Proposed

Pacifica took the first step toward low-cost housing for low-income senior citizens last week.

The City Council authorized its adminstrative staff to proceed with studies aimed at determining what housing can be provided and what priority Pacifica senior citizens would have in occupying the units.

The action was sparked by a survey that had revealed that at least 115 senior citizens would be eligible for the low-cost housing, which would be financed by the federal government.

City Manager Karl Baldwin reported that 151 questionnaires had been returned in the survey. And he added:

"I'm ceratinly surprised that we received as many responses as we did. It would certainly indicate a need for low-rent housing for our senior citizens. This is the first sound indication of need that we have received."

On the basis of the survey, San Mateo Housing Authority has recommended that Pacifica seek funds to build 200 housing units.

The agency would sponsor the housing and would underwrite the cost of a special election in which Pacifica residents would be asked to approve the project.

Baldwin said that the housing should rent from $55-$60 a month —including utilities.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the Pacifica 50-Plus Club, a senior citizens' organization, suggested that the city apply for 300 units and hold the authorization for the extra 100 units in reserve.

"Otherwise," she contended, "we'll have to go back to the voters a second time if more housing is needed.' '

The 50-Plus Club had requested the survey of senior citizens.

Mayor James Fox said he was concerned that if the county housing group built the units, Pacifica residents might not have priority in moving into the buildings.

Baldwin replied that he thought the authority would be fair about allocating housing because Pacifica would be initiat-

Pacifica City Council Hits BridgeRuling

The Pacifica City Council spanked the state highway division last week for what it said was a failure to tell the city what criteria was needed for a decision on a proposed pedestrian bridge over the freeway at Sharp Park.

Richard Greenely, assistant to the city engineer, said the state "left us completely high and dry."

The highway division has informed Pacifica it doesn't believe the need for an overpass justifies an estimated $40,000

A New Hospital Opens...

WHILE DALY CITY officials look on, Mary's Help Hospital welcomes its first patients to the hospital's new hilltop home in Daly City. The first to be admitted Sunday morning were Mrs. Mary Smalley of San Francisco and her newborn son, being held by nurse Mrs. Mary Marshall. The infant was born at noon Saturday in the old Mary's Help building in San Francisco. Coast Zone Ordinance Introduced

Seven years in the making, a new zoning ordinance for Pacifica was finally introduced for adoption at a meeting of the City Council last week.

The new legislation would replace Ordinance No. 1, the first to be enacted by Pacifica after its incorporation in 1957 and a measure that adopted the San Mateo County Standard zoning ordinance.

Last week's action, taken unanimously by an obviously relieved council, took place after the council approved a number of final revisions and corrections in the ordinance recommended by the Planning Commission.

The council placed final adoption of the ordinance on its agenda for December 22 but indicated that because Councilman Fred Ballew has said he will be absent at that time, the adoption probably will be held over until the council's first meeting in January.

The zoning ordinance would become effective 30 days after its adoption.

In other action, the council adopted the 1964 edition of the Uniform Building Code after Councilman Harlan Minshew protested that councilmen had not received the opportunity to study an ordinance incorporating the code prior to introduction of the ordinance.

"I take exception to introduc-

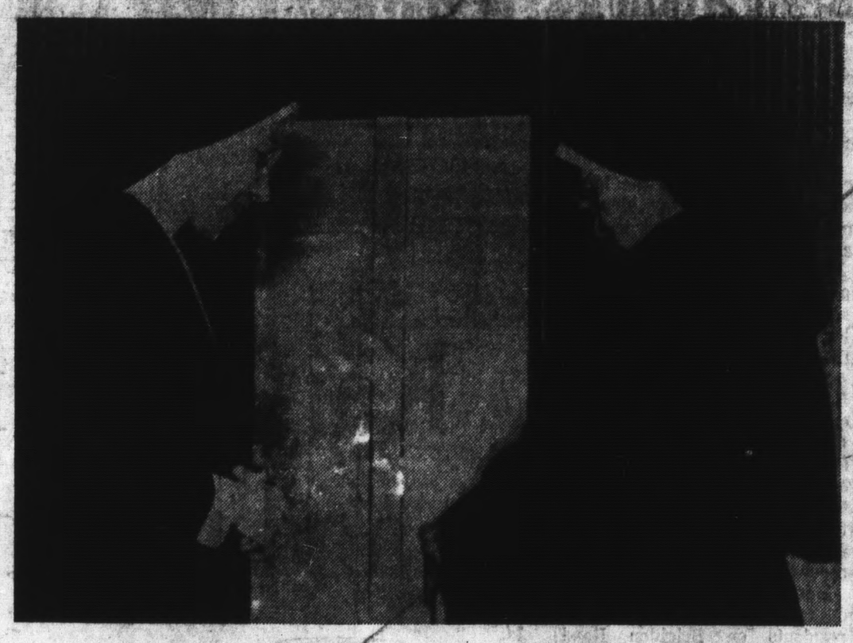
...And an Old One Closes



AS SISTER LOUISE, hospital administrator, looks on, Sister Agatha, 88, nostalgically locks the door to the old Mary's Help Hospital on Guerrero Street in San Francisco — thus ending an era that spanned 53 years. Sister Agatha was one of the original group of 10 Daughters of Charity who opened the first Mary's Help in 1912. She was the first nun to move her belongings to the new Mary's Help in Daly City. Homework Leads to Alarm, Family Flees Coast Fire

First to see the fire in Pacifica was Didra Kennedy, of 1044 Zamora Drive.

She got up around 4 a.m. yesterday to do her school homework when it was quiet, looked out the window and spotted smoke. Miss Kennedy reported to the Pacifica Fire Department at 3:59 a.m. that there was a brush fire in Linda Mar.

Firemen who went out searching for a brush fire reported back they could see a fire in a house at the same time a resident on Corona Drive telephoned that a house across the street was burning, and Richard Cowes of 880 Corona awakened and smelled smoke. He thought it came from the Christmas tree

Westborough Man Dies In S.F. Shooting

A young South San Francisco man was shot to death in San Francisco last night after a reported argument with two motorcycle riders.

Kenneth Kidd, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Kidd, 2267 Shannon Drive, Westborough, was the victim. Survivors include a brother and a sister.

Police say Kidd was killed by a bullet from a .30-.30 rifle in the hands of a total stranger, Phillip Hall, 19, a sheetmetal worker of 2050 Forty-third Avenue, San Francisco, near whose home the shooting occurred.

The bullet, fired at close range, blasted through Kidd's

CHANCELLOR GIVES VIEWS

Free State College Site Urged

Chances of the Peninsula area being next in the state to get a four-year state college may depend upon the availability and cost of a site.

This was indicated at a meeting in Redwood City last week by Glenn S. Dumke, chancellor of California state colleges, who made several hints that local interests should try to arrange to donate a site.

"The most available site," Dumke said, "is a gift."

He pointed out that Kern County, which beat out this area in the race for a state college, offered seven separate sites—all free.

Dumke and members of his staff met for two hours last week with the college site selection committees of San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties.

This was followed by a public meeting at which the state's requirements for sites and the procedures for recommending them were outlined.

Dumke said his department is mandated to first build a college in Kern County. Another is to be built by 1969 in either the San Mateo-Santa Clara County area, in Contra Costa County or Ventura County. The two who lose out will get their colleges some time before 1975.

TWO-HOUR MOVE

Mary's Help Transfers To D.C. Facility

(Another Picture, Page 3)

Mary's Help Hospital moved from San Francisco to Daly City in two hours Sunday; within another two hours, it had admitted a mother-to-be and delivered its first baby.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McInerney, of 3741 Madera Way, San Bruno, was born shortly after noon.

The mother was admitted to the hospital at 10:15 a.m., 15 minutes before the move was completed.

Sister Louise, hospital administrator, visited the mother early in the afternoon and presented her with a Bible for the baby, inscribed to Johnette Camey McInerney — the baby's name.

Johnette joined the first admitted patient, a baby born in the old hospital at 145 Guerrero Street, San Francisco, to Roy and Mary Smalley of that city, less than a day before.

The hospital was immediately busy in other ways, too. Irving Shapiro, of 248 San Fernando Way, came down the street before the day was over to be treated for hemorraging of the nose.

The move to the hospital was accomplished with an efficiency and co-operation that Sister Louise termed "tremendous."

Assistant Administrator Lawrence Hoban directed activities from the San Francisco building while Sister Louise waited at the $8,000,000 San Mateo County location.

Nuns and nurses also were divided. There were also two teams of doctors, one checking the patients out at the old, and the other checking them in at the new.

To expedite the move, and to assure every possible consideration for the patients—reduced to 27 for the occasion, and many seriously ill — the hospital was given complete co-operation of the police departments and Civil Defense organizations of San Francisco, Daly City and Broadmoor.

Using two-way radio and walkie talkie, they kept the new hospital posted, so that one minute before arrival, the San Fernando Way hospital was ready to receive each patient.

Eighteen ambulances, 26 mobile unit trucks and 30 volunteers participated.

Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City was on hand to welcome all.

Immediately upon arrival of the patients, the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul went into operation, along with full staff. Sister Dorothy supervised the operating room; Sister Albertanne took over the obstetrics division, and other sisters and nurses went on duty

."I can't overemphasize the co-operation and working togetherness of all personnel and staff, Sister Louise said.

Remarking that the hospital patient list swelled to 49 by Monday, she said that the patients were so delighted with the new facility that even though the television sets were only then being installed, they didn't care. The hospital has

State Rejects District Split For 2nd Time

The State Board of Education, meeting in San Francisco, last week turned down for the second time a proposal that would split the Jefferson Union High School District into two unified districts.

The proposal had been rejected by the board last November. In the interim, alternate plans to unify schools in the North County had failed to gain the endorsement of the San Mateo County Committee on School Reorganization.

The committee decided in October to reintroduce its split-district plan.

The proposal to split the high school district called for a unified district comprising the Laguna Salada Elementary School District in Pacifica and a second district comprising the Brisbane, Jefferson and Bayshore Elementary School District.

In past actions, the state board has followed a policy of not splitting high school districts except in cases where special factors are involved.

Councilmen Vote Selves $100 Raise

A $100 pay raise for Daly City councilmen was authorized by the Daly City Council Monday night.

Councilmen approved the second reading of the pay raise ordinance, which will become effective when the council reorganizes next spring after the April municipal elections.

The pay boosts are authorized under the terms of state legislation, enacted this year, which permits cities to pay their councilmen salaries on the basis of population.

Daly City councilmen are presently paid $50 a month. The mayor receives $75.

Pacifica, South San Francisco and Colma also have approved pay boosts for their councilmen.

In other action, Councilman Bernard Lycett asked the council to consider establishing a committee of councilmen and members of the city's administrative staff to make recommendations on furnishing the Civic Center, now under construction, and on other features of the center as construction proceeds.

Councilmen said they would take up the request at a study session.

D.C. Council Set to Study Vista Plan

Pacifica Urges Turnout Area

By DON MILLER

Daly City councilmen Monday night decided to look into the possibility of obtaining a scenic turnout on the upper portion of the Edgemar freeway just north of the point where the freeway dips down toward the Pacific Ocean.

The council acted after receiving a letter from Pacifica Mayor James Fox, who had noted:

"As the Edgemar freeway begins to descend just south of the Skyline Boulevard junction, there appears to be a possible excellent location on the west side for such a turnout and vista point facilities."

Fox added that Pacifica has long been engaged in a program to establish highway vista points to provide motorists with safe locations for viewing the ocean coast.

He explained that since the area is within the Daly City corporate limits the city would have to request a turnout area from the State Division of Highways, which would have final jurisdiction.

In answer to a question from Mayor Francis Pacelli, City Engineer Arthur Resnike reported that there would be enough room for the turnout but that "it would be somewhat of a tight spot."

He remarked that a turnout at this site would provide a good view.

When Councilman Bernard Lycett commented that he would like to study the proposal further, the council agreed to take up the turnout suggestion at its next study session.

In other action, the council received a report on the annual audit of city books from its auditor, Richard Dwyer, who said the city's tax rate this year was piped-in music and magnificent views from every room.

"The patients greeted it all with awe and admiration," she said.

By 7:30 p.m., there had been 12 emergencies treated. A second baby was born during the day. Two meals had been served patients without a hitch.

Sister Louise credited it to the intensive pre-orientation program conducted for three weeks by Marie Mahone, in charge of paramedical education.

Half the staff was rotated daily to the new hospital and went through all the motions of service. Also, all new employes had a full week of intensive training.

The gleaming, modern structure on the slope of a hill reaching to Skyline Boulevard looks out to San Bruno mountain and the Bay, and the surf along Ocean Beach.

Patients' rooms are set around the periphery of the rectangular building; nursing stations are placed in the center on each floor.

The rooms themselves are placed at 45-degree angle so that patients can each look at the magnificent view.

Immediate expandable to 400 beds, the hospital has been built for a present capacity of 250 patients.

A completely modern intercom system allows the patient not only to signal the nurse, but, utilizing the audio-visual system, also to talk to the nursing station while he waits.

A nurse also can call or talk to several rooms at one time, if necessary, from any point.

body and sped 100 feet across Forty-third Avenue at Pacheco Street. The slug slammed into the front door of a stucco house occupied by Mrs. Maxine Williams.

Police say the shooting occurred as the result of an argument over the ownership of the motorcycles being ridden by Hall and his brother, George, 16.

Kidd and four friends were driving idly around, police said, when they saw the two Halls riding past.

In front of 3918 Pacheco Street, the argument began, and Hall went around the corner to his home.

Moments later, police say, Hall returned with the rifle.

He warned Kidd and the others to "quit bothering" him and his brother, said police, and then the shot was fired.

Having blasted the Yuletide peace of the neighborhood, Hall shouted to his astonished neighbors to call an ambulance and the police.

ing ordinances at meetings where we first haven't been given the ordinance," he declared. "I think it's a matter of courtesy to the council."

City Attorney Conrad Reisch said the ordinance, by state law, had to be introduced before a public hearing could begin.

The council deferred further action and continued a public hearing on the ordinance until the council's January 12 meeting.

City Manager Karl Baldwin reported that copies of the uniform code would be available in his offices.

Housing For Elderly To Be Studied

ing the move to provide the units.

W. S. Peterson, of 640 Loma Vista Terrace, Pacifica, suggested that Pacifica consider establishing its own housing authority.

Baldwin said the city is eligible to take such a course of action but the Federal Housing Authority, which would provide the funds, favors the city's working with the county group.

At this point, Mrs. Calhan urged the city to act speedily since, she said, "if we go to sleep on it, somebody else is going to get the money."

At length, the council instructed Baldwin to confer with the county housing group on priority for Pacifica residents and to prepare a report for a council session early next year.

After some discussion, the council deferred action on an administrative recommendation that the city purchase a tape recorder that would record all calls to the police department.

Police Chief Neil Tremaine had requested the recorder, which would cost $450, to eliminate problems he said occur in verifying information received by phone and in determining who places calls.

The recorder, Baldwin said, would have an automatic "beep-beep" signal to alert callers that their conversation was being recorded.

After noting that the cost of the recorder had not been budgeted, Fox asked whether purchase would upset the city's finances.

Baldwin replied that at present the city was "in the ball park" on the budget and not heading towards a deficit.

However, after hearing that building fees were down about $2,000 in the current fiscal year in comparison to last year, the council decided to defer action on the tape recorder until a meeting in January when, as Fox put it, "we can take another look at the budget."

cost. Of this amount, Pacifica would put up half.

Mayor James Fox commented:

"We seem to be getting a game of beat around the bush out of this highway department. They don't want to talk about it (the overpass)."

The council directed city manager Karl Baldwin to ask Assemblyman Leo Ryan (D-Burlingame) for a conference on the overpass.

Later, the council also asked Baldwin to include the city's request for a flashing light at Hewitt Avenue and the Coast Highway among the topics to be discussed at the conference.

Greenley had reported that the city hasn't received a reply from the state division on the request.

Earlier in the meeting, council received a petition from 20 residents on Brighton Road protesting a one-way traffic flow that has been in effect for about eight months on Brighton.

Noel Quinn, of 155 Brighton, contended that traffic on Brighton is too light for a one-way road.

The petition triggered a protest by W. S. Peterson, of 640 Loma Vista Terrace, that the over-all system of one-way streets from Paloma Avenue to Clarendon Road wasn't needed at all.

Council to Study View Area Plan

"a fair rate, based on the needs to operate the city."

He noted that the city's bonded indebtedness is "very low—only about 2 per cent of assessed valuation." And he lauded city finance director Joseph Arch for being "very conscious of the city's dollars."

Councilmen deferred action on a proposed subdivision of 21 acres, Lakeview Park, adjacent to Westmoor High School.

Mayor Pacelli said the council prefers not to act on the subdivision until the Planning Commission has made recommendations on rezoning part of the subdivision area from commercial and multiple dwelling to single, two-family and multiple family dwellings.

However, Pacelli lauded the plans of the sponsors, Lakeview Developers of San Francisco.

"We're certainly impressed with the new approach to this 21-acre site," the mayor commented. "We're particularly pleased to see R-1 (single family) in roughly half of the area."

The Planning Commission was scheduled to act last night on the rezoning application.

The property became the center of a storm of controversy two years ago when a developer proposed to build 800 apartments on the land. The proposal was subsequently withdrawn.

In other action, the council:

Awarded a contract to Gunther-Shirley-E. M. Penn Construction Company for a $1.5-million-gallon reservoir in the city's new Serramonte subdivision. The firm's bid of $158,627 was the lowest of six submitted.

The reservoir will be a "twin" to an existing water storage facility off Skyline Drive south of Westmoor High School.

Costs of the reservoir will be paid by Suburban Realty Company, developers of Serramonte. The company, in turn, will be reimbursed from water charged homeowners.

Coast Hikes Salary For Councilmen

The Pacifica City Council, following a lead taken by other North County cities, last week raised councilmen's salaries from $50 to $150 a month.

The action was taken after on resident objected to the pay boost while several others supported the proposal.

The vote on the second reading of an ordinance increasing salaries was unanimous. The ordinance was authorized under the terms of state legislation this year that enabled councilmen to pay themselves a salary based upon population of their cities.

Previously, Daly City and South San Francisco in the North County approved councilmen's pay boosts.

Harry Moseley, of 8 Duran Court, Pacifica, submitted a statement to the Pacifica lawmakers in which he listed five reasons why the council should not boost its pay.

He said (1) it was philosophically wrong for councilmen to boost their own pay; (2) Pacificans "not long ago" had approved the present $50 salary and "two pay levels can't be correct"; (3) a pay increase was unnecessary, it wouldn't attract more candidate for the council; (4) the authority of the city manager might be eroded and (5) there are better uses for the $6,000 that would be used for the salary increases.

Joseph E. McGuigan, of 1 Goodman Road, however, disagreed. He declared:

"I think the amount involved is a very small compensation for councilmen. I'm also aware of the fact that the majority of our people have no idea of how much time councilmen put into city business."

His comments were endorsed by Jane Dennison, of 152 Santa Rosa Avenue.

Stork Was Early Arrival

MARY'S HELP HOSPITAL had been officially open for only two hours Sunday when the stork arrived—delivering the first baby born in the new North County facility. Mrs. John McInerney of 3741 Madera Way in San Bruno, the mother, is shown here with her daughter, as yet unnamed, as Sister Louise, hospital administrator, gives them a Bible as a memorial to the historic event.

North County Deaths

DIXIE M. WEST

Mrs. Dixie M. West, 54, 1352 Solano Drive, Pacifica, died last week at Peninsula Hospital after an illness. A native of Utah, she had lived in this county for eight years, and in California 16 years.

Survivors include her husband, Leslie, and a sister, Mrs. Mabel Grether, Salt Lake City.

Funeral services were held Monday at Chapel of the Highlands, Millbrae. Interment was in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

MATILDE SHIRLEY

Mrs. Matilde Shirley, 84, 333 Brighton Road, Pacifica, died last Tuesday at a Millbrae Sanitarium after a long illness. She was a native of Sweden, and a long time resident of North Dakota.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Viloet Person, Pacifica; Mrs. Marianne White, Vallejo, and Mrs. Lillian Syverson, Wapato, Wis.; a son, Charles, Bolivia, S. A.; six grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday from Nauman & Lincoln's Chapel by the Sea. Interment was in Cypress Lawn Memorial Park, Colma.

ADRIAN ZERTUCHE

Adrian John Zertuche, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Zetruche, 1315 Redwood Way, Pacifica, died at his home December 5 after a sudden illness.

Survivors include two brothers, Martin V., and Vincent Daniel; two sisters, Anna Maria, and Regina Julia, all of Pacifica; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Zertuche, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Cruz, of Redwood City.

Funeral services were held from Nauman & Lincoln Chapel by the Sea. Interment prayers were recited at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

D.C. CHAMBER

Meet on Hospital Bus Service Set

Directors of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, worried that adequate bus service may not be available to serve the new Mary's Help Hospital, asked last week for a conference among Daly City officials, representatives of the Northgate Transit Company and the chamber on the service.

The firm's buses which serve the Daly City area, do not run beyond early evening.

However, a large number of hospital employes will be ending a shift at 11 p.m. each day, according to Lawrence Hoban, administrator of Mary's Help.

Peter Markovich, chamber manager, told directors that the bus company could provide the late service if merchants would buy advertising cards in buses —thus providing enough revenue to compensate the company for insufficient fares in late evening hours.

Northgate would charge $2 for each card placed in a bus. The firm has 14 buses.

Director Joseph Rohl said action to ensure bus service for Mary's Help should be taken immediately. And he added:

"Once people establish a pattern of getting to the hospital by other means, the institution of a bus system up there is not going to make a material dent in that pattern. This is something that should be done now."

Director Donald Monson asked about the possibility of inducing the San Francisco Municipal Railway Company to extend a bus line to Mary's Help.

Director Bernard Lycett, who also serves as a Daly City councilman, replied that Muni for some time has been studying a proposal to extend its service into Daly City.

"However," Lycett said, "if you're talking about Muni up there (at the hospital) the next week or after, no, it's not a possibility."

The hospital received its first patient Sunday morning. It will be dedicated Saturday.

In other business, chamber directors tentatively adopted a budget calling for expenditures of $17,850 in 1966 and a year-end reserve of $8,784—making the total budget $26,635.

Last year's budget was $25,000.

In a related action, directors authorized a study of the chamber's dues structure. The dues schedule ranges from $25 to $100.

A committee headed by John Wuerthner will undertake the study.

After a lengthy discussion, the directors also decided to continue to maintain a publicity committee.

TOP SLASHED

Frances Langfelder of 25 Poncetta Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had slashed the top of her new auto and stolen an undetermined number of articles from the car, parked in her garage.

Lions Club Plays Santa

The Daly City-Colma Lions' Club will play "Santa Claus" to 1,100 girls and boys from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., next Wednesday at the Serra Theatre in Daly City.

This will be the first Annual Christmas Theatre Party launched by the service club in co-operation with the Serra Theatre management.

Balloons and candy canes will be distributed by Lion Club members to all children attending the party which will be highlighted by a two-hour showing of Walt Disney features and a series of cartoons.

Admittance will be limited to grade school children — up to, and including youngsters of 12 years. Admission is free.

Seating capacity of the Serra Theatre is 1,100.

Children Overcome, Family Flees Car Fumes in House

A Daly City family came close to possibly being asphyxiated early Thursday evening after their auto had been accidentally left running in their basement garage for two hours.

About 8 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Talbot of 162 Cerro Drive noticed that their two children, Carol, 5, and Kurt, 8, couldn't seem to stay on their feet. They appeared dizzy.

The parents checked the garage area, discovered the auto running and then phoned the Daly City Fire Department.

The parents and children then quickly left the house and waited outside for the Daly City fire department.

Firefighters, as a precaution, applied resuscitation to the children who were then taken to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco.

Hospital officials said the children were placed under observation and then released. The parents were not visibly affected by the auto fumes, firemen said.

Cohn to Head Realtors Unit

Bernard Cohn of Seavue Realty in Pacific Manor will assume his duties as president of the Coastside Board of Realtors January 1.

Cohn, along with other officers, was honored at an installation dinner given by the realtors at the Long Table Restaurant

S.S.F. Pleased Over State Conference

A task force to Sacramento last week from South San Francisco brough back the feeling of success, City Manager Eugene Aiello reported.

Some immediate aid in handling intersections on El Camino Real was promised, and state recognition of Bayshore problems was achieved, he said.

The state will have no money availabe for widening El Camino, or greately improving its intersections, until the 1967-68 fiscal year, local leaders were told.

However, State Highway Division Four will be instructed to start right away on preparing "at least stacking lanes on some of the most dangerous intersections."

South San Franciscans were told to complete their plans for Airport Boulevard access and exits from Bayshore, and to be prepared to ask for an appropriation when the Highway Commission meets early next year.

The same approach will be followed regarding more permanent solutions to El Camino Real problems, with the state promising co-operation on the way.

S.M. County Aides Give To Crusade

San Mateo County employes contributed 91.7 per cent of their 1965 United Crusade goal, setting new records in giving, it was announced here last week by County Manager E. R. Stallings.

Each employe gave an average gift of $12.16, a rise over 1964's average of $9.28, to produce a total gift of $23,295, Stallings said.

This year's giving is 5.4 per cent greater than last year's and yielded an additional $1,200. In recognition of special performance, the Crusade will award certificates of achievement to departments or divisions giving an increase of 21 per cent over last year's gift, including:

Health and Welfare Department: Purchasing, Civil Service Commisson; Coroner and Public Administrator; Building Construction and General Services; Public Health division, Board of Civil Defense; Building Inspection, and Social Services division.

Employes at Crystal Springs Rehabilitation Center were singled out for special commendation since 44 of 123 employes were "fair share" givers, contributing one hour's pay a month for one year.

Manslaughter Count Lodged

Martin R. Cortesi, 51, of 1755 Louvaine Drive, Colma, was booked on manslaughter charges in San Francisco last week.

Cortesi, a truck driver, was arrested in the hit-run death of an 80-year-old woman December 2 in San Francisco. He told police he was unaware he had hit the woman.

By LE PACINI

SOME DAY one of those "drafted" athletes is going to have guts enough to refuse to be drafted, and a very interesting legal hassle will ensue, possibly ending that practice for all time.

It will have to be a big star of high principle, a boy willing to hold fast to his decision, disdain money. It will probably have to be a football player, because baseball is far from the point where it will have to depend on the draft as its lifeline, as is the case with professional football.

We realize that without the draft pro football championships would be won by the richest clubs, that balance would soon disappear. But such drafting is also not quite of the highest moral standards, and, if really tested, may not be legal.

The athlete, as we've indicated, will have to be quite a man to risk a potentially great artistic and financial career, and his coming isn't altogether likely.

But some day it must happen.

WE HAVE an interesting theory as to how to do away with pro basketball and football's prejudice of the little man.

If all clubs would agree to draft a certain number of good little men each year, then eventually the league would be stocked with enough little men so that not as many big men would be needed to stop other big men.

If you can integrate color, why not size?

WE DON'T think enough credit's been given the Los Angeles Rams for their great inventive contributions to the pro grame.

We have two in mind: The flanker back, which was merely a way of getting two other ends into the game to team with Tom Fears (Elroy Hirsch and Bob Boyd), and the so-called elephant backfield, now being well employed by the 49ers. That Ram elephant herd, remember, consisted primarily of Dan Towler and Tank Younger.

ONE NEED only to compare rosters of a football generation ago with contemporary ones to realize the gross difference in the sizes of youngsters nowadays.

Take the local San Francisco State, for instance:

Although not by any means considered a big team, State's line (combined offensive and defensive) this past season averaged 211, its backs (again, combined) 184, the team over-all, 198.

In 1953, the era of Joe Verducci's Pony Backfield and Mule Line, the over-all line—not counting ends, which tend to lower the average — weighed 194, the over-all backfield, 166. Ends, incidentally, averaged 174, for an over-all team average of 186.

It's all relative, because State was winning Far Western Conference championships then, and still is.

INSIDERS OF the San Francisco State scene, incidentally, contend that no matter what the "all" teams say, the two best pro prospects on the squad were offensive guard-tackle Elmer Collett, and middle guard-defensive tackle Lyle Baucom.

Collett, now a 225-pounder, who runs nearly like a sprinter, will grow, they say, to 240, and could be a real sleeper. All that Baucom, still a growing boy at 260, needs, is desire. There are many people now trying to convince him that football, after all, isn't JUST a game.

GEE, magazine and newspaper All-American teams are b[illegible]ng so Bible-like that "experts" now ch[illegible]k them [illegible]e if the boy they're about to praise has been na[illegible]d to any of them. If he hasn't, they blush and k[illegible]p their mouths shut.

WE DON'T know if any of you readers are still interested in boxing, but if you are, you may have noted that the Bay Area has seldom been so prominent in World Boxing Association ratings.

Two San Franciscans are currently rated among the top ten heavyweights: Thad Spencer (eighth) and Elmer Rush (tenth).

Another San Franciscan, Bobo Olson (whose son, Carl, of South San Francisco recently married), is rated the sixth leading light-heavy.

And last, but not least, San Francisco middleweight Jimmy Lester is rated fifth in that division.

Other San Franciscans, heavyweight Eddie Machen and middleweight Hank Casey, have recently been dropped from the ratings because of inactivity, brought on for various reasons.

LEE FORSTER'S recent appointment to the Pacifica Planning Commission brought back humorous memories of Forster wallowing in mud, shivering, and attempting to both report and photograph high school football games for another local weekly.

Out of context, it isn't funny, but in context, Lee's journalism experience at that time consisted of having been a sales executive for a pipe company. He had never taken pictures professionally, never covered an athletic event. He had taken the job as a challenge, as something different, and we so clearly remember him mumbling through chattering teeth, "What am I doing here," over and over again.

But Lee, who for the newspaper did everything in those days, INCLUDING sweeping up, transcended it all with good planning. And what better choice could there have been for a planning commissioner?

THOSE TERRA NOVA TIGERS could, literally, BE Tigers next football season. Only three regulars from BOTH the offensive and defensive units are not returning, and they had two of the four juniors (end Mike Ward, tackle Don Henkel) on the All-NPL elevens.

A RECENT perusal of San Francisco State all-time football records made rather strange reading for us.

In our era, which, after all, wasn't that long ago, all passing records were held by Maury Duncan (who had captured them from Sam DiVito), running records by John Shea.

Later we saw Jimmy Sochor lift most of Duncan's records, and Charley Fuller replace Shea. Now Don McPhail has busted most of Sochor's records.

All of which goes to substantiate old cliches like, "Records were made to be broken," "nobody's indispensable," "athletes keep getting better," etc., etc. . . .

EL CAMINO'S former great all around athlete, Walt Harris, was chosen on the All-Golden Gate Conference defensive squad. The fine College of San Mateo back was the only ex-NPL man to be so honored.

JEFFERSON IN TROUBLE

Indians Need a Big Center

This is the third in a series of articles on North Peninsula League basketball for the 1965-66 season.)

By JOHN HORGAN

HOW CAN a coach with two of the best basketball players in the North Peninsula League complain?

It's easy when you are Jefferson High School coach Mike Orlich and your tallest player is only 6-2.

Orlich has, in Willie Redmond, 6-2, and Tom Pritchard, 6-2, as fine a pair of "middle-sized" cagers as there is in the entire county.

Both of these preps can pepper the nets for double figures in any ballgame. And they have done just that all through their high school careers.

But Orlich, the dean of NPL coaches, has his problems: "If we only had that one good big man we would really be tough, but we don't and we are hurting on the boards."

That's the Indians tale of woe in a nutshell: no height. And a basketball team without height is plain dead. Unless you have two players like Redmond and Pritchard.

MENTION THOSE two and Orlich brightens considerably.

"Willie should have won the scoring title last year as a junior but that cancelled game with El Camino (due to a scuffle on the Indian campus a day prior to the contest) caused him to lose it to Greg Jones of South S.F. by four points. Still, he had the highest average in the league (17 per game)."

Redmond is a strong-legged junior forward who is destined for big things. He has already hit for 32 points in the Indians' first game with Burlingame last week and appears ready to take up where he left off last year when he was named to the all-NPL first team.

But Orlich, a forthright and frank individual, is just as high on Pritchard, a quick-shooting guard.

"Tom made the All-NPL second team last year as a junior but could have been first club if we had a better record in the league," observed Mike last week.

By all rights the Indians ought to have a better year than their 1964-65 effort when they went 9-10 for the season and 4-5 in NPL play.

"That cancellation with El Camino made us drop below the .500 mark last year in both league play and on the year. We had a better team than that," lamented the Indian chief.

This year the Jeffs can prove that they do, indeed have a better club than that record would indicate.

WITH REDMOND at forward is John Kirby, 6-2 and a junior, "who has a lot to learn" according to Orlich. Kirby played center for the B's last year and must now learn the intricacies of the flanks.

Outside with Pritchard will be any one of a trio of players of about equal ability: George Egan, 5-10, Dan Cafferetta, 6-0, or Pete Barry, 5-10. All are seniors and all could be first club.

The crucial center post is manned by Claude Munday, a 6-2 workhorse pivot who lacks only good height to be one of the better big men in the area.

Munday is adequate against men his size, "but when the other center is around 6-5 or 6-6 he just gives up too much height," says the coach.

Jerry Benson, 6-1, and Ernie Gray, 6-1, add depth to the small club.

ORLICH IS banking on a squad of only nine men to carry him through what ought to be a rugged NPL slate of 12 games.

"Depth might be a problem, but we are looking for a solid nucleus right now," commented Orlich.

The Indians, whose schedule is something of an oddity with games interspersed by long periods of lay-off, will play in the Palo Alto Tournament next week and they should know by the end of that affair how high they can go in the NPL.

But Orlich is already convinced that South San Francisco has the team to beat.

"South S.F. is definitely tough and I feel that they have to be the team to shoot at, but watch out for El Camino," asserted Mike.

"Westmoor, on a given day, can probably whip anyone in the league if they get hot in their own gym," he concluded.

ORLICH ENDED the brief interview with some comments about a 6-6 center and an NPL title.

Very possibly, the former would have brought the latter to the Jeff campus this year.

As it is, the medium-sized Indians must fight for their lives against bigger foes all year long.

BIG CAGE WEEK

Jeff, Tigers In Palo Alto Tourney

North Peninsula League basketball teams, still experiencing great difficulty in the practice season, venture into a relatively full week of play this week with hopes of amassing some victories.

Thus far, the NPL has a weak 6-10 record against outside teams, and, with tournament appearances upcoming for two of the schools, the league mark might not improve.

Both Terra Nova (0-1) and Jefferson (1-0) journey to Palo Alto Monday for the opening round of the Palo Alto Tournament.

Jefferson would appear to have the best chance of the two for making a good showing. Both clubs will play through Wednesday.

In other games this week involving NPL units:

Tomorrow night, Half Moon Bay (0-3) hosts Holy Cross and will attempt to make up for a one-sided loss suffered when the two teams met in Santa Cruz earlier in the season.

Friday, Oceana (0-1) meets Crestmoor in Pacifica, El Camino (3-1) duels San Mateo in South San Francisco, Lick-Wilmerding travels to South San Francisco (2-1), Terra Nova (0-1) hosts Galileo and Mission journeys to Westmoor (0-3).

Jeff Hosts B's' Tourney

Jefferson High School will host the third annual Jefferson B's Basketball Tournament over the Christmas Holidays beginning Monday and continuing through next Wednesday.

Indians' B's coach Mic Kelly announces the first-round pairings will be:

10 a.m.—San Mateo vs. South S.F.

11:30 a.m.—Carlmont vs. Aragon.

1 p.m.—Drake vs. Terra Nova.

2:30 p.m.—Oceana vs. Jefferson.

San Mateo has won the title the two previous years and is favored again this year.

GREG JONES

N. COUNTY DOMINATES

NPL, Jones Lead County Grid Unit

North Peninsula League football teams walked off with the bulk of the All-County Football Team selections chosen by The Post-Times Friday.

The NPL grabbed off seven positions on two teams. South San Francisco High School's Greg Jones was named Player of the Year.

Along with soon-to-be-league-member Half Moon Bay High School's Clarence Sloan, the total number of North County players named to the two clubs was eight.

South S.F.'s champion Warriors, rated the number two high school 11 in the county by The Post-Times (Burlingame was rated first), placed four players on the teams.

Besides Jones, the greatest running back in the history of the school, other Industrial City players named were quarterback John Moro and center Noel Simmons on the offensive team and back Joe Smith on the defensive team.

Other NPL players named to the clubs were: El Camino offensive guard Vic Ornelas; El Camino defensive lineman Ed Green; Jefferson linebacker Al Namanny, and Sloan.

Besides South San Francisco and El Camino, the only other county schools to place more than one man on the team were Burlingame, Woodside, and Menlo-Atherton.

Bob Lightcap of Burlingame, who directed his team to a perefct 9-0-0 record and the MPL title, was named All-County Coach of the Year.

The Post-Times is the only newspaper in San Mateo County that covers the games of the three public school leagues, the Catholic Athletic League and all county independents.

Other players on the offensive team include:

From the Mid-Peninsula League — end Mike Langford (Burlingame) tackles Fritz Eriksen (Burlingame) and Ben Green (San Mateo), and back Marty Kreidt (Mills).

From the South Peninsula Athletic League — end Mike Maloney (Woodside), guard Jim McCulloch (Woodside) and back Colby Howe (Menlo-Atherton).

Other players on the defensive team include:

From the Mid-Peninsula League linemen Fred Fadelli (Aragon) and John Rutherglen (Hillsdale).

From the South Peninsula Athletic League — ends Gary Hamilton (Ravenswood) and Dave Bliss (Menlo-Athetron), linebacker Ed Dobbs (Menlo-Atherton) and back Frank Pignataro (Carlmont).

From the Catholic Athletic League—back Rich Gantenbein (Serra).

HANDLING the ball with the dexterity of a professional, Mills High School's superlative, high-scoring guard, Johnny Volk, flips a pass behind his back to a teammate while a frantic Westmoor player attempts to halt the move. Mills, one of the surprises of the Mid-Peninsula League so far, crushed the Rams, 59-45, Friday, on the winners' court. Mills is 2-1; Westmoor is 0-3.

SSF Faces Indian-EC Challenges

If South San Francisco High School feels it has the North Peninsula League basketball title sewn up before the league season even begins, the Warriors had better take a look—a long look—at both Jefferson and El Camino.

The latter two clubs, along with South S.F., had all-winning slates last week as they began to show definite signs of strength.

El Camino on a pair of games, beating Crestmoor, 59-48 and Menlo School, 52-48.

Jefferson, opening its season last Wednesday in Daly City, clouted a tall Burlingame five, 78-71, with Tom Pritchard and Willie Redmond lealing the way with a combined total of 54 points.

But South San Francisco did not stand idle while all this was transpiring.

The Warriors of Bill Purcell knocked off a good San Mateo team, 76-64, last Wednesday and came back Friday night to down Mission of San Francisco in overtime, 80-75.

Big Jim Henry totaled 51 points in those two games and hauled down 30 rebounds.

But the other four teams in the NPL experienced difficulty.

Westmoor, the defending champion, lost to undefeated Serra of San Mateo on Tuesday 76-61, and Mills of the MPL on Friday, 59-45.

Half Moon Bay dropped a pair of contests, one to Holy Cross of Santa Cruz, 60-51, and the other to Pescadero, 69-54.

Terra Nova lost their first game of the season, 56-42, to Crestmoor.

Finally, Oceana was dumped by Holy Cross, 43-30, in the Sharks' initial tilt of the campaign.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

NOW IS THE time for all good cooks to rally 'round and start making and baking Christmas cookies. In order to do my bit to aid the cause I've tested some new cookie recipes that I will share with you and will include here some of the tried and true ones that have proven themselves over the years.

First of all a delicious bar cookie that includes chocolate bits, sherry wine and nuts. Sound interesting?

WALNUT TREASURE BARS

- ½ cup shortening
- 1 cup brown sugar, packed
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup sherry
- ¼ cup milk
- one and two-thirds cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon instant coffee
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ Teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup coarsely chopped nuts
- 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
- Icing

CREAM TOGETHER shortening, sugar and egg Add milk and sherry (batter may look curdled at this point, but will smooth out when flour is added). Resift flour with coffee powder, salt, baking powder, soda and cinnamon.

Add to creamed mixture and blend to a smooth batter. Stir in walnuts and semi-sweet chocolate bits.

Spread in greased pan 10 by 15 inches. Bake in 375-degree oven about 20 minutes, until top springs back when touched lightly. Cool in pan. Spread with icing.

Decorate tops of bars with additional walnuts and chocolate morsels if desired. Cut into bars. Makes three dozen bars (about 2½ by 1½-inches).

ICING

- 2½ cups sifted powdered sugar
- 1½ tablespoons soft butter
- 2 tablespoons sherry
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1 teaspoon instant powdered coffee

Combine powdered sugar, butter, sherry, milk and powdered coffee, and beat until smooth.

This amount of icing is most generous and I found that I used about half of it for my bars as I do not like so thick a topping.

IN CONTRAST to the last recipe that made a cookie that is rich with nuts and chocolate bits, this next recipe makes a cookie that is not so sweet. It is crisp, dark and delicate with the flavor of aniseed. And, for a change, you use whole wheat flour in addition to the white flour.

WHEAT SWEETS

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup unsifted whole wheat flour
- 1 teaspoon aniseed
- 1 cup shortening
- ¾ cup sugar
- 5 or 6 tablespoons water

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt. Add the unsifted whole wheat flour and aniseed.

Blent together sugar and shortening, creaming well. Add the unsifted whole wheat flour and aniseed.

Blend together sugar and shortening, creaming well. Add the dry ingredients, blend thoroughly with fork or pastry blender.

Sprinkle water over the mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball.

Roll out on floured pastry cloth or board to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes with cookie cutter or pastry wheel. Place on greased baking sheets. Sprinkle with sugar.

Bake in moderate oven (350-degrees) 15 to 18 minutes. Remove from baking sheets immediately.

WHAT WOULD Christmas baking be without old fashioned hermits? With the combination of sugar and spice and everything nice they are a delicious cookie. And this particular recipe makes a large batch, plenty for gifts and home eating too.

HERMITS

- 1½ cups brown sugar
- 1 cup shortening
- 2½ cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup nuts, chopped
- 1 cup currants
- 1 cup raisins

Cream shortening and sugar. Sift together dry ingredients. Add the beaten eggs to the creamed mixture and blend in the sifted dry ingredients. Lastly add the nuts, currants and raisins.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven about 10 minutes or until nicely browned. Cool and store.

THE MAKING of shortbread is a simple matter and the results are the most delicious cookie you would want to make, so rich and good that they melt in your mouth.

GINGERBREAD TREES

- 2 cups sifted flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon soda
- 1½ teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ cup shortening
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup molasses
- 1 egg yolk

Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder and spices. Cream shortening sugar and molasses. Add the egg yolk and mix well.

Gradually add sifted dry ingredients and mix to a smooth dough. Turn out on a floured board or pastry cloth and roll out to ¼-inch thickness. Cut into desired shapes. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet 8 to 10 minutes in 350-degree oven. Cool on a rack. Makes two dozen cookies.

DECORATORS GLAZE

- 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 3½ teaspoons water
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- Good colorng

Blend powdered sugar, water and vanilla in a small bowl until smooth. Add a few drops of green food coloring. Spread on cooled cookies and decorate with cake decorations or cinnamon drops.

S.F. State Plans Candlelight Dinner For Yule Season

The traditional student-faculty candlelight dinner at the Commons will highlight the holiday season for San Francisco State College at 6:45 tomorrow night.

Rev. Charles Johnson of the Trinity Lutheran Church will offer the invocation.

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

CHRISTMAS isn't here yet, but Mrs. Kathryn Glebow is anxious that everyone begin thinking about New Years now, while there are still tickets available for The Our Lady of Mercy Parish New Years Eve Party.

Mrs. Donald McNab is general chairman for the evening festivities to be held in the parish hall between 10 p.m. and 2 a.m. She and her committee have been busily assembling the favors, noise makers, and miscellaneous paraphernalia and decorations necessary for a good old-fashon style New Year.

Mrs. John Sullivan at PL 6-6432 and Mrs. Robert Walker at PL 6-4071 are accepting calls for reservations now for what Mrs. Glebow assures will be one of the very nicest New Year's celebrations ever.

Tickets, costing $15 per couple, will entitle party goers to refreshments during the evening as well as a midnight supper, to be served buffet style. Dancing will be to the music of Steve Balich and his orchestra.

WILLIAM ROSS will be honored by the Amity-Seal Rock Lodge, AMF, upon the occasion of his retirement as master of the lodge.

Members of the Westlake Senior Citizens will celebrate Christmas with their annual luncheon, gift exchange and caroling party this afternoon, according to Mrs. Bea Batz, president of the group.

Festive as the day promises to be, the members will all be saddened by the passing of Mrs. Etta Luallann last week. Mrs. Luallann was a long-time member and was serving as an officer at the time of her sudden death.

Settled in their new home in Florida are former Westlake residents Mr. and Mrs. Richard Winter.

MEMBERS OF the Daly City Community Chorus took time out from their busy schedule of entertaining others and celebrated the impending holidays with a chorus members' party this past week.

More than 30 couples were on hand to enjoy the evening in the Broadmoor Community Center.

THE DALY CITY unit of the Navy Mothers of America has shipped its first Christmas gift abroad, according to Mrs. Juanita Perada, commander.

The club, formed only this past year, has gathered presents for the people of Viet Nam and sold candy to raise money for the Galilee Navy Chapel in Long Beach. Both projects proved very successful, the commander said.

According to Mrs. Perada the mothers' group hopes to start the new year with a large membership drive. The unit has established permanent headquarters in the First National Bank on Mission Street at Vista Grand and holds regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each month.

Mrs. Lucille Jones, founder of the Daly City chapter, was elected the state finance officer earlier this month during the California Navy Mothers convention held in San Diego.

Mrs. Jones will be in charge of the finance programs of all the California branches, Mrs. Perada said.

THE PACIFICA BRANCH of the Federated Women's Club observed Christmas last evening with a party held in the gracious new Pedro Point home of member Mrs. Alice Uriarte.

The party, an annual tradition, featured a gift exchange among the members and collection of canned goods to fill holiday baskets for needy families.

Chief among the topics of conversation was the financial success of the fashion show held on December 5 to raise money for the scholarships given to seniors at Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools.

The show, which featured fashions from Ross Department Store was attended by more than 150 persons, according to Mrs. Eva Morton, club publicity chairman.

Mrs. Jean Silverman and Mrs. Deloris Fazzio were the chairmen and Mrs. Jan McMannis was in charge of the committee which created all the lovely candles and greens centerpieces and scattered pine cones, angels and poinsettas about to establish a truly holiday decor.

Oraline Canepa, refreshments chairman and Mrs. Wilma Burton, model co-ordinator completed the list of committee women who made the evening so enjoyable.

WEDDING BELLS rang Saturday in the Grace Lutheran Church in San Francisco for Ernestine Shepard and Roy J. Tierney of Daly City.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moreci of St. Francis Heights during the church rites and later feted by close friends and relatives in the St. Francis Heights home of the bride.

Tierney, the co-owner of the Mark Morris Tire Centers, and his bride are honeymooning in Las Vegas. They will continue to make their home locally after their return.

MRS. DORIS MORRISON and Mrs. Olive Verna Rogers, judges for the Pacifica Artist Guild annual formal show were faced with the formidable job of selecting winners from a remarkable fine collection of art work this past weekend.

Luther Spraker was general chairman of the exhibit and Mrs. Dorothy King, Mrs. Lucille Sutherlin, Mrs. Roberta Ewald, Mrs. Belle Nau, Mrs. Connie Hegedus and Mrs. Lillian Neatherly were the committee women who did so much work to insure the success of the evening.

Forty members of the guild and their families attended the Christmas dinner which concluded the first day of the show Saturday evening. Toys were collected for the Fireman's toy basket in lieu of a gift exchange by members.

Members of the Pacifica branch of the League of Women Voters are boning up on the subject of regional planning prior to their January meeting.

Episcopal Women Fete New Officers

The Episcopal Church Women of St. Martin's Church welcomed their new officers at a luncheon-meeting held at the church on Southgate Avenue in Daly City.

The ladies also took part in an auction after the luncheon, when articles left from their recent bazaar went up for sale.

The new officers are Mrs. Jane Clay, president; Mrs. Louise VanZandt, first vice president; Mrs. Jeanne Brugge, second vice president; Mrs. Ruth Sharp, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Bogohsian, treasurer.

Elections Held For Directors' Posts

The annual election for the seven directors of the Fairmont Subdivisions Improvement Association has been held and the new members elected.

Here is the new board: Edward Libonati, president; S. Ferd Dorius, vice president; William Weinberg, vice president; Daniel Irwin, vice president; Prince Serrechia, treasurer; Charles Drucker, secretary; Darrell Jewett, publicity chairman.

Engagement Told

GEORGIANNA DOUGHERTY AND JOHN GROSS

Georgianna Dougherty To Wed John W. Gross

Friends and family who gathered recently for a dinner at the South San Francisco home of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Dougherty of 16 Nyla Street, heard the romantic news that their daughter, Georgianna, is betrothed to John W. Gross of San Francisco.

The prospective benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gross. He is the brother of Barbara Bladen of The Times and Mrs. James Tracey of South San Francisco.

John is currently serving with the U.S. Navy and is stationed aboard the destroyer S.S. Roger based in San Diego. An alumnus of Riordan High School in San Francisco, he attended San Francisco State College. He is affiliated with the Newman Club and graduated first in his class at the Navy's Quartermaster School.

Jan, as she is known to her friends, is the sister of Stephen Dougherty who lives at the family home, as does their grandmother, Mrs. Georgia Harrison, and Mrs. Gerald Hix of Fountain Valley. The future bride attended Mercy High School in San Francisco and the University of California.

John is the grandson of the late Elizabeth Rist and the late Frank Storey. Jan's grandfather was the late A. G. Harrison of Tulsa, Okla.

No definite wedding plans have been disclosed, as the future bridegroom is awaiting assignment for overseas duty.

Winston Manor To Receive a Visit From Santa Claus

Santa Claus will come to West Winston Manor at 10:30 a.m. Saturday for the second year in his handsome sleigh.

Santa will start his tour at 10:30 a.m., proceed through the neighborhood on a winding course, then end his visit with a party for Winston Manor children at Serra Vista School.

An association committee headed by Dorothy Yrjola of Longford Drive will help him out by providing the goodies.

After the party, a lucky boy and girl from the neighborhood will join Santa on a tour of downtown South San Francisco.

LAMB-KA-BOB

Alternate chunks of boneless lamb (from shoulder or leg) on skewers with squares of bacon and green pepper and broil.

YW-Wives Slate Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party of the YWCA YW-Wives will be held from 10 to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at the home of secretary Mrs. Mary Hart of 174 Huntington Drive, Daly City.

The women will bring homemade Christmas decorations to the party and exchange ideas on those decorations.

Women of the community are invited to join in this meeting. Nursery care will be available at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, where the group have their weekly meetings.

Meetings will recess over the holidays and the 1966 program will resume January 6.

Bethel Will Hold Annual Yule Fete

Bethel Church of Pacifica will hold their annual Christmas program at 7:30 a.m. Sunday, in the church.

The Sunday School Department will present a program entitled "In the Fullness of Time."

In the presentation of this program various students from each class will portray the true reason why Christ came to earth and why we celebrate His birth.

The Junior Christ Ambassadors choir will also bring various Christmas selections, under the direction of Nick Akimoff.

Following the Sunday School program the Christ Ambassadors will give a three-act play entitled "His Wonders to Perform."

The players are as follows: Peni Ambrosen as Mrs. Silvers, John Canales as Mr. Silvers, Paul Wilson as Jack Silvers, Gordon Brown as Ronald Brent, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Berry as Mr. and Mrs. Bryce, Cheryl Heitman as Ada Brown, Sharon Heitman as Margie Holt, Christine Brown as Alice Randall and Michael Boswell as Sgt. James Brown.

This play portrays the true meaning of Christmas. Mrs. Bonniepean Warford is the director.

During the program there will be a presentation honoring the Sunday School teachers and workers.

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Presbyterians Map Their Annual Christmas Program

The annual Christmas program of the Sunday School of Church of Daly City will be held at 7 p.m., Sunday.

The nursery, kindergarten and primary departments will sing songs.

The junior department will present "What Makes Christmas?"

The junior-highers use the theme, "Christmas Around the World."

The high schoolers will do the ushering.

Mrs. Ruth Hoppin is the coordinating teacher, assisted by Mrs. Margie McBride and Mrs. Marjie Tweedie.

John Rued is general superintendent and Fred Teffault is assistant.

It is announced that the children may bring canned food or packaged rice which will be shipped for welfare use in South Viet Nam through the channels of the current public appeal.

The Christmas Sunday worship services this week are at 9:30 and 11 a.m. with Sunday schools at the same hours.

The annual Christmas Eve carol service is held at 11 p.m. next Friday.

Youth Set A Music Fete

A Christmas music spectacular will be presented at San Francisco Youth for Christ at 7:30 Saturday evening.

Highlights of "A Year to Remember" will be spelled out by special scenery and lighting effects garnished with the music of the Golden Gate Gospelaires.

John Boswell, dynamic director of Sacramento Youth for Christ, will be special guest and will be giving a message of vital interest to teen-agers.

It will be held in the War Memorial Auditorium at McAllister and Van Ness Avenues in downtown San Francisco.

Chanukkah Service Set By Temple

Congreagtion B'nai Israel will observe the Jewish festival of Chanukkah at 8:15 Friday night at the temple at 1575 Annie Street in Colma.

The holiday of Chanukkah begins on Sunday and commemorates the maccabean victory over the Syrians in 165 B.C. and the rededication of the temple which had been defiled by the tyrant Antiochus, king of Syria.

Candles are lit and gifts exchanged on each of the eight nights because of the legend that when the temple in Jerusalem was recaptured, oil for the holy eternal light miraculously burned for eight days until a new supply could be obtained.

Baptists Will Hold a Program

The annual Sunday Church School Christmas program of the Westside Baptist Church will be presented on Sunday evening at the church.

Sunday School Superintendent Alton Swedberg will be directing. The theme this year is, "Unto Us a King." There will be participation by all of the children and youth of the church school.

Children are asked to bring a can of peas, to be placed under the tree, and to go to the San Jose Rescue Mission, in their ministry to the men and Jose.

women of skid row in San

Also, used clothing for children, babies and adults is sorely needed at this time of the year, and these articles can also be brought that evening.

Lutherans To Yule Service

Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church will celebrate a midnight candlelighting and carol service with each person participating by lighting of a candle and singing of the favorite Christmas hymns on Christmas Eve.

A 15-minute organ prelude will be played by Mrs. Irvin Tweet. The senior choir, directed by Robert Hall, will add to the power of the message. Pastor Irvin Tweet will preach on "'Twas the night . . ."

Three choirs—a boys' choir, directed by Robert Bleile, a girls' choir directed by Mrs. Irvin Tweet, and the senior choir directed by Robert Hall — will create the climate of a festive Christmas service on Christmas Day.

This service which is the crowning festival for Christmas will have Pastor Tweet bring the message "What Can We Give God?"

Baptists Slate A Sunday Cantata

The Westlake Baptist Community Church of Daly City presents John W. Peterson's Cantata, "Night of Miracles," at 10 Sunday morning in the sanctuary.

Music will be sung by the sanctuary choir.

Missionaries Set to Talk

Sunday the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene will hear Nazarene missionaries and present the annual Sunday School Christmas program.

In Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. and worship service at 10:50 a.m. Rev. and Mrs. Clayton Garner will tell of their work in Barbados, West Indies.

They will present their work through slides during the Sunday School hour and Rev. Garner will preach at the worship service.

Reverend Garner is the pastor of a large native church on the island of Barbados. For a time before going as missionaries the Garners assisted at the Broadmoor Church.

The annual Christmas program of the Sunday School will be presented at 7:30 p.m.

Brotherhood Way Center To Offer Day Camp Program

A six-day camp program for boys and girls in elementary school will be offered Monday through December 29 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily at the Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center at 655 Brotherhood Way, San Francisco, for the first time.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week of school vacation will be filled with group games, song and dance activities, crafts, dramatics and sports, culminating in gala entertainment to be planned for the enjoyment of parents as well as the participants themselves.

Highlight of the vacation program will be a trip to San Carlos to see the production of "Babes in Toyland" at the Circle Star Theatre.

Jordan Safine, Bill Freeman, and Jerry Kramer of Brotherhood Way Center's professional staff will be among the group leaders who provide daily program supervision.

The full cost, including the special trip, is $12.50 for Brotherhood Way Center members and $25 for non-members. The deadline to register is tomorrow and full payment must be made in order to save a space for a child.

Bethel Choir To Sing Yule Carol

Bethel's Christ Ambassadors choir will present their third annual Christmas carol Tuesday.

They plan to visit the Linda Mar Convalescence Hospital and various shopping centers throughout the city.

This group of young people, under the direction of Dan de la Vega, have made this an annual event.

Volunteers Needed for The D.C. Salvation Army Unit

A call has been issued for volunteers to serve on the Citizens' Service Committee of the Salvation Army in Daly City.

Volunteers can be women and men who are willing to give some time and thought to aiding in emergency welfare needs of people in the community.

About $1,000 is dispensed each year for temporary help to individuals and families for food, housing and other special needs.

There is also the referral of needy persons to agencies or groups who provide the help over a longer period.

There are 12 citizens on the present committee which is headed by Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie.

The welfare secretary is Mrs. Lyal Ingersoll, assisted by Mrs. John Eason. Their leadership has extended over many years in the visitation and dispensing of funds to needy families. Those interested should phone Mrs. Ingersoll at 587-5350, or Mrs. Eason at 755-5377.

HOW MANY APPLES?

Happy 80th Birthday To Papa Bertolucci

LARRY BERTOLUCCI will give his Bertolucci's restaurant staff a Christmas holiday—Bertolucci's will not be open Christmas Day. However, reservations are still being taken for pre-Christmas Day parties. Likewise, New Year's.

L. Bertolucci

Full credit goes to Mama Bertolucci, "queen of the kitchen," for making Cannelloni so famous at this restaurant. Extra special birthday greetings to Papa Bertolucci, who was 80 years young Wednesday, Dec. 8. He still plays an active part in the restaurant business so expertly operated by his son, Larry, and daughter, Lela . . . There's plenty of romantic history behind the Los Gatos La Hacienda Inn. Back in 1904, this site was a stage coach stop for Peninsulites bound for Santa Cruz—and it still is a right nice place to "stop" for an exceptional dinner and cocktail visit . . . Extra bonus at the Red Lion Inn, Hillsdale: In addition to serving gourmet food and choice wines, the "88ing" of Marie Therese is spotlighted. She sings songs of her native France, as well as current hits and old favorites.

CAN'T THINK OF A NICER WAY to spend Christmas Eve (before Santa arrives) than taking the family to dinner at the Burlingame HYATT HOUSE. The main dining room will be open until 9 p.m. (no music is on the schedule); regular menu prevailing. JOHNNY KAN'S excellent Chinese restaurant (also under the Hyatt House roof) will serve until 10:30 p.m. For those seeking entertainment during the afternoon: The HYATT MUSIC THEATRE will feature a matinee at 2:30 p.m.; no show during the evening. On Christmas Day, the main dining room at the Hyatt House will be open from 4 p.m. until midnight; BOB WELLMAN and his orchestra will bandstand until 12 midnight. Special Christmas Day dinner served from $5.25; children, $2.75. General Manager ED SULLIVAN suggests reservations—and right now . . . PHIL LEHR isn't telling when his new Wellington Room, adjoining his downtown Steakery in S.F., will open, but when it does, you will see one of the most elegant dining rooms in the United States.

Ed Sullivan

LLOYD SHIPPEY, V.I.P. of the Greyhound Line, had raves galore for the recent Omar Khayyam's dinner which he and his lovely Mrs. enjoyed before "Hello Dolly" curtain time at the Curran. "Hospitality, service and food were outstanding!" commented Mr. Shippey. "Our visit with Owner George Mardikian will long be remembered . . . Ever wonder where many Bay Meadows jockeys "unsaddle" during the evening? Ron Giannetti's Surf House, for one. They enjoy dinner and the pianobar music of talented Marge (she entertains Wednesday through Saturday) . . . The Rapp Brothers, Jerry and Fred, have many outstanding features at their South San Francisco Holiday Inn—and one of the most important is that of dining room direction and supervision. This duty is headed by Claude Schroeder, who formerly held the same position at Rickey's Rendezvous Room at the San Francisco Depot . . . Phyllis and Augie Aprile have a beverage winner in their double martini for 75 cents. Their Augie's On Third Avenue is a pop spot for luncheons and dinner.

Lloyd Shippey

The Palmers Added To Scotty Campbell's Entertainment Bill

The Scotty Campbell's "clan," Theresa, Mary Lou, and Bud, have added another entertainment plum to their thriving Redwood City restaurant and cocktail lounge: The Palmers, an excellent piano and vocal duo who were booked in direct from Chicago, are currently being well received by those who enjoy the best in entertainment. Scotty Campbell's is a swingin' place for any occasion featuring a menu far above the ordinary.

Lew Lehr's wife, Edith, accused him of being such a golf nut that he didn't even remember the date they were married.

"Of course I do," said Lew. "It was the day I sank that 30-foot putt!"

Will get over to Frank Torres' Montara Beach Hotel, this weekend, to take more pictures of his holiday decorations. When you see this Yuletime sight it almost makes you believe that Santa winds up his Christmas Eve trip right here.

Sea Food Diet? See Vince Licata

Special for the diet conscious: You should enjoy seafood at least twice a week. Check the morning weigh-in and delight yourself with the fact that this is an easy way to weigh less.

Vince Licata and your Bright Lighter discussed the matter thoroughly, the other afternoon. If you'd like a special seafood diet, Vincent will be more than happy to give you his personal recipe to health. Incidentally, this is the same Vince who owns Vince's Sea Food and Italian restaurant (as if you didn't already know), the El Camino Real "Fisherman's Wharf."

During the month of December, King's Banquet VII will give away soft drinks to all children who dine here when accompanied by an adult.

Overheard at the bar at Romano's in Pacifica: "No wonder Santa is such a jolly type. By the time the bills come in at the first of the month, he's back at the North Pole."

RAPIDLY CLIMBING TO THE TOP of the popularity polls are the versatile and multi-talented Standells, who currently headline the show each night at the Airport's Tiger-A-Go-Go Club. Four of the Swingingest, singingest, clowningest, instrumentalists ever to hit these parts, the Standells, individually and collectively, are loaded with talent.

La Touraine Ideal For Holiday Parties

Scores of holiday parties and luncheons from private groups of business firms, clubs and organizations of all kinds have been booked at La Touraine in Burlingame. The restaurant is open to the public for dinner Monday through Saturday (closed Sundays); luncheon only private parties from 25 to 125 are served. Complete cocktail service—finest liquors, liquers and vintage wines.

Await news from Edwin Best and Raymond Cook of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel as to their New Year's Eve party plans. As in years past, this should be an evening filled with fun galore.

Mary Gordon Keeps the Crowd

During their last week's dinner visit to the unpredictable Mac's Tea Room in Los Altos, San Francisco opera singer Joe Ciampi and orchestra leader Stan Kenton were so impressed with entertainer Mary Gordon that they stayed until the last song.

Whether it's for luncheon or dinner, you'll feast on favorite foods of China, Italy, Mexico, plus choice American dishes, at the Gourmet Table. "All you can eat" for $1 for luncheon; dinners, $1.50. This is a food bargain featuring quality and taste.

Leaning Tower Is Long Time Favorite

Lou Ercoli and his brother, Joe, have their Leaning Tower going at full business speed ahead. Your Bright Lighter has been a constant patron at this well-established South San Francisco restaurant since it first opened several years ago, and have enjoyed watching it's popularity grow. Wonderful Continental and Italian cuisine—moderately priced.

Phil Rauscher, general manager of the International Inn Restaurant, is planning a big New Year's Eve funfest and one of his well known dinner specials for the yearend holiday. Keep your eye on the "Inn" for your New Year's party plans.

Ever hear of "Steaks—All you Can Eat" It's true! King's Table in Redwood City invites you to try their Monday night broiled New York steaks, served from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m. There are four other hot entrees to choose from, plus 35 tantalizing salads.

The Sinaloa's traditional Christmas Posadas will go into holiday action on Thursday eve, Dec. 16, when the floor show finale will feature the colorful breaking of the Pinatas. Don't miss these evenings of fun!

Westlake Bowl

THE PINS were flying in the Dusters Handicap League last Friday as Howie Tracey started with a 246 game, followed with 194, then came back with 226 for a great 660 series.

The Saturday evening Blue Chip Bonanza continues to grow. In order to make it possible for everyone to have an opportunity to compete reservations are being taken in advance. The first squad now starts at 7 p.m. followed by a second group at 9:15. Almost 200,000 stamps were awarded last week.

Secretary Lou Pierovich led the ladies with 182—496 as Chuck Gard topped the men with 211—527 in the Thursday night Twilight Mixed Fives League.

In the "battle of the century" last week, Frank Falconi's Catlemen's Club defeated Ed Castagnetto's Roofers by winning the third game of the series. Spectacular split converting by Charlie Barca won the first game for the Roofers but Rich Olcese led the Cattlemen to victory in the second and third games. Rich Clews led the league for the evening with 204—597.

IN THE MIXED-UP Fives League, Jo Runne was the leading lady with 186—479 while Glen Maffei showed the way for the men with a 198 game and 556 series.

Tickets are going fast for the Second Annual New Year's Eve Party set for December 31. Since reservations are limited, it is advisable to see Bowl employes now for tickets. The cost of $25 per couple includes all expenses for the evening.

Once again scores were high in the TGIF Mixed Fives as Ruth Noll shot 190 and 535 while Mel Steinberg posted a 205 game and 587 series.

Secretary Joe Maurino was "in the pocket" all evening in the 865 Scratch League, shooting a big 235 game and 643 series.

Mickie Ellis took both high game and high series honors in the Tuesday morning St. Emydius Belles League with 182 and 478.

Ed Guzman approached the six hundred mark in the Friday Mixed Fours when he led the men with 203 and 592. High for the ladies was Margot Coburn wity a 166 game and and 445 series.

SOUTHWEST HANDICAP League bowler of the week was Steve Rosenstock with a 211 game and 570 series.

Leading the Good Fellowship League was Jim Martin with a 547 series while Mike Andrews rolled a 221 game.

The Sleepers Handicap produced a star of the week in Tony Bento with a 208 game and 590 series.

The first qualifying period ends Sunday midnight in the First Annual S. F. Examiner Christmas Charity Singles. One of every 10 entries each week will qualify as Westlake representatives in the house finals January, 8-9 from which one in 10 will qualify for the grand finals the following weekend.

With a 1966 Buick as first prize and an Opel Kadett as second, plus the charity benefit, it is expected that both high and low average bowlers will be competing. Entry blanks are available at the concourse desk.

Sea Bowl

THE ALLEYHOLICS LEAGUE was in fine form on Tuesday. Vanda Maloy bowling with Brentwood Super X bowled 100 pins over her average for the day shooting a 414. Nice going, Wanda.

June Lendewig bowling with the Edgemar Club had 191 for a 527. Penny Smith with Lou's Flying "A" had 202 for 570. Carol Brown on Drieth & Norton Realty had 176 for 492.

On the Sea Bowlerettes December 1 Carol Lee rolling with Central Food Market had 198 for 534 and the high series for the day. Sharon McGuinness bowling on Champion Auto Parts had a nice 204 game.

Mermaids — The high series and game for the day was rolled by Dot Turner with a 191 for 539.

Joanne Funk bowling with the Keglerettes had a nice 215 game for a 518 and the high game and series for the ladies. Karin Dozier bowling on Frank Deak Realty picked up the 2-7-10. Nancy Elliott bowling with Epperson Floors had a nice 189 game.

ON NEPTUNES DAUGHTERS, Lois Talbot bowling with Ed and Jim's Union had a 209 for a 539 and the high game and series for the day. For the Sea Bowlerettes on December 8, Jeanne Allemand rolling with Hazel's Deep Sea Fishing Team had 191-189-203 for 583 for the high series for the league for the day.

Thelma Corcorran bowling on California Trophy strung six in a row for a nice 223 game and the high for the day.

On the Aquanauts League June Hurtado bowling for Vera's Stitch Shop had a big 222 game and the high for the day. Becky Fox took the honors for the high series for Wisbey Realty with a 526.

So that the coverage of the leagues can be as complete as possible, I have included only the day leagues for this week. Next week I will put in the night leagues. I think in this way I will be able to give more news about each league. This is done because of the limited space available to this particular section of the paper.

AMONG SOME of our Famous Tournaments coming up soon is the S. F. Examiner News-Call Bulletin Christmas Charity Singles. Starting on December 10 and ending on January 2. The entry fee is $4. For more information come in and see Primo.

The BPAA is still open for the women. Get some teams together girls and bowl. Entry fee is $3.30. Section 5 Division will be held at Sea Bowl. One out of eight are eligible.

Blue Chip Stamp is still being held here. It is available on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons; Friday mornings; Monday and Tuesday nights; Saturday nights from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m., and Sunday we have the Scotch Blue Chip Doubles.

Get a partner and bowl.

Licenses Can Be Renewed By Drivers

Drivers whose licenses expire within the next six months will be able to add a fifth year on their licenses if they renew them before the first of the year.

Persons applying for license renewal before January 1 will be issued five-year licenses from the expiration dates of their old licenses.

A renewal after January 1 will result in a four-year license.

The department estimates that more than a million drivers' licenses will expire in the next six months. They can be renewed now, the department says.

Persons with poor driving records and all first-time applicants for a California license will receive a three-year license. Late renewal also results in a three-year license.

The Daly City Department of Motor Vehicles Office is located at 199 Southgate Avenue.

COMMENT

Adult Response By CSM Students

THE COLLEGE of San Mateo has become the newest target of the naive dupes of the Viet Nam Day Committee and it is good to be able to report that the college administration is meeting the situation with reason and firmness while the great majority of the students are giving the troublemakers the kind of derision they deserve.

Although the college officials expect the antics of the Vietniks to continue it is evident that both the college and the students have found effective methods for dealing with the self-inflated egos of these misguided young people and those who incite them.

As College President Dr. Julio Bortolazzo aptly points out, the college campus—like the United States itself—is governed by law, not by men, and no one may set himself above the law. The firm enforcement of this policy enables the college to proceed in an orderly manner with its most important task, the education of those who really want to become educated. The same firm enforcement protects all equally, including those weak enough to be misled or engage in publicity-seeking tantrums, but permits the orderly ejection of those who seek to create disorder.

The ridiculous indignation of one student who is attempting to contravene the law, while procuring himself a phony mantle of martyrdom, is the petty basis upon which the Vietniks are trying to create campus dissension here.

THE FACTS are simple. The college board has an established policy prohibiting fund solicitation on the campus for any purpose other than school activities, unless the solicitation is expressly approved by the board. The student in violation was attempting to sell VDC buttons on the campus. He did not seek the board's approval for his campaign; he did not even ask for it. He was warned that his solicitation was in direct violation of the policy but refused to abandon his efforts. The day after he was ordered suspended for 10 days he returned to the campus three times in abortive attempts to renew his solicitations.

He was again ejected from the campus, along with three other youths, after they had picketed College President Bortolazzo for more than an hour.

THE COLLEGE acted fully within its rights. He was in flagrant violation of a ruling on which he was fully informed.

Apart from the firmness on the part of the college authorities, for which they should have the full support of every law-abiding person, it was highly encouraging to find that the vast majority of the students were not taken in by the staged intent of the whole phony episode.

College of San Mateo students are showing an adult reaction to an agitation that is clearly spurious and false. They have also hit upon the right way to eflate the erratic pretensions of self important fools. It is very difficult to become a "martyr" when everyone is laughing at the shabby and transparent self-serving tricks.

First Lutheran Church

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH, located at Willow Avenue and Dolores Way in South San Francisco, was founded by the present pastor, the Rev. Martin L. Wyneken, in 1954. The congregation first met in the Fraternal Hall on Grand Avenue. The new sanctuary was finished in 1956. The school adjoining the church was built in 1960 and presently houses eight grades. A two-room expansion of the school is planned. There are 440 baptized members in the congregation. (Post-Times Photo)

The Main Dish Was Merriment

Don Miller

MERRIMENT was the first and only item of business on the agenda the other night when the City of Daly City called to order its annual holiday "meeting" of city leaders and members of the city's commissions.

The merriment was served in generous portions at Westlake Joe's by members of the City Council and the administrative staff and after the last course, there was a unanimity of opinion that the festivities, as in prior years, were a smash success.

This can be attributed largely to a mischievous sense of humor on the part of Daly City's current slate of lawmakers, led by a past master at the business of seeing that people are having a good time, Hizzoner, Mayor Frank Pacelli.

For this year's edition of the city's annual thank-you dinner for commissioners and employes, Pacelli cooked up a final course that called for the wives of three councilmen—Eddie Dennis, Mickey DeBernardi and Bud Lycett—to expound on the merits of their husbands' seeking election when the April municipal balloting rolls around.

It would be accurate to say that the ladies acquitted themselves quite nicely on a short notice. Their campaign talks were models of brevity and to-the-pointness.

It also would be fair to say that the wit displayed by their husbands must run in the family for the ladies turned out to be quite adroit at the fine art of banquet humor and repartee.

As anticipated, the mayor once again displayed his enviable knack of being able to introduce from memory a room full of diners and his only slip-up developed when City Librarian Samuel Chandler somehow came out as "Samuel Chapman."

All of which limited the mayor to only an "A" for his efforts instead of the usual "A-plus."

CHAMBER RIDDLE: When is a secretary not a secretary? Answer: When the secretary is the "secretary" of the Daly City Colma Chamber of Commerce.

Sound confusing? It works this way:

The chamber by-laws provide for a president, a vice president, and a treasurer. But no secretary. The administrative head of the chamber is formally titled "secretary-manager" in the by-laws but as a matter of course, he does not perform secretarial duties when the chamber membership or its directors meet each month.

These duties are fulfilled by Alyce Brachman, who serves as the "assistant" to Charles Maroosis, who was elected secretary even though the by-laws don't provide for an elected secretary.

Alyce can't serve officially as secretary, chamber officials say, because she's the secretary-manager of the Westlake Improvement Association and the by-laws of that organization prohibit its officers from serving as an officer in such a group as the chamber of commerce. (Alyce, however, says that isn't so.)

This admittedly confusing state of affairs captured the fascination of the chamber's directors last week when the directors decided to take a close look at the chamber's by-laws.

To wit, the directors wondered if it might be a good idea to change the rules and provide officially for an elected secretary.

It probably would be a good idea, all right, but — alas — it would be the demise of a dandy riddle.

END OF THE LINE—To nobody's surprise —least of all, the people who proposed it in the first place — the plan to split the Jefferson High School District and make two unified school districts out of the division got spanked again last week by the State Board of Education.

That ends quite an era. Now the whole business will pass out of the hands of the San Mateo County Committee on School Organization and into the hands of a special review committee entrusted with a mandate to come up with an acceptable (to the state) North County unification plan.

It's been a long, dreary haul, this unification business, and after more than three years of proposals, counter-proposals, public hearings, torrid debates, split votes and a lot of misunderstanding, the North County is right back at the starting line and unification seems as far away as ever.

Just what the review committee—when appointed—will come up with should be inordinately interesting. The betting in this corner says the committee will propose a unified district comprising the area now served by the high school district—a plan advanced long ago but defeated by the county committee in the early going.

SENIOR CITIZENS A-GO-GO—The stereotyped description of a senior citizens' club is one that depicts the club as an organization in which elderly citizens can get together now and then for a pot pourri of social activities, luncheons and tours. Period.

In Pacifica, as Pacificans proudly noted last week, the stock description fell flat on its phraseology when the City Council authorized its administrative staff to compile data on low cost, federally financed housing for senior citizens.

The action stemmed directly from a mail survey that revealed that at least 115 Pacifica senior citizens would be eligible for this kind of housing. And that survey stemmed DIRECTLY from the efforts of the 50-Plus Club, Pacifica's senior citizen club, to have such a canvass conducted.

The 50-Plussers have been in business for only a couple of years or so but in that short span they've become one of the young city's most active and live-wire groups.

Move over, you teen-agers. You've got some stiff competition!

JUST LIKE YESTERYEAR—It seems a bit incredulous but that proposal to reinstitute ferry service between San Francisco and Marin County is gaining serious headway.

If the broad-beamed ships ever do resume their ways on the Bay, the people who will guide the whole operation would be wise to take a long look at the Washington State Ferry System in the Seattle area.

This ara, all chopped up by waterways and such, depends absolutely on its well-run ferryboats for a smooth flow of commerce and for a means of transportation for commuters.

And that, from where we see our freeways, is commuting the way commuting should be done!

Better Business

Mail Order Ad Deception Rises

Lorene Beasley

DECEPTIVE MAIL order advertising reaches its peak during the Christmas holiday season. Firms which were permanently enjoined by the attorney general because of misrepresentation in mail order promotions are presently flooding the area with offers of wholesaler's service under new names and addresses. Some of the companies claim to be selling distress merchandise.

A great many people want to believe they can get something for nothing. They do not stop to realize that no company can continually sell merchandise at wholesale prices and remain in business. There is very little truth in the promise "I can get it for you wholesale."

Those who pay $3 for their wholesale buying guide are promised as a bonus, "Information on How to Save Up to $1,000 on the Purchase of Your Next Car." If you join the service within 30 days you will receive as a bonus, information telling you where and how to buy your next car with guaranteed savings up to $1,000.

This applies to used cars as well. Better Business Bureau files show that this 30-day bonus offer has been in effect for nearly two years.

SOME OF the amazing "below wholesale prices offered in the cataolg consisted of a 1964 Studebaker Lark, $599, a 1964 Chevrolet Biscayne for $799, and 1965 Ford for $999.

The full details would be given concerning these cars only upon membership in the service.

Those who subscribed found that the 1965 cars available for $999, FOB and purchased only in the state of New York, had been in so-called "carefully maintained fleet use."

If the buyer could not pick up the car, the firm would arrange for a driver to deliver the car for a fee plus gas and oil. Better Business Bureau files show that many buyers who bought sight unseen found the advertised car to be an ex-taxi with high mileage.

Another buying service with a $25 fee for joining a "factory buying club" claims to sell merchandise at 35 per cent below regular wholesale prices. It would be impossible for any business to give these prices unless the merchandise was obsolete or damaged.

ONE WHOLESALE catalog offered a vacuum cleaner for $24.95. The price tag on this particular vacuum cleaner in practically every store is $19.99. On special sales it is offered in local stores for $8.88.

Better Business Bureau again strongly recommends that prospective purchasers of merchandise in these wholesale catalogs compare the prices of merchandise offered with the prices of the same article in the local shopping areas.

If you do business by mail order, make sure first that you are dealing with a reliable company.

Postal authorities brought into Vermont Supreme Court letters of complaint from 3,825 customers against a wholesale club that annually sold millions of dollars of merchandise.

Thirty-five witnesses testified that merchandise they had ordered had not been delivered. They also had not been able to obtain refunds for goods that was either damaged or not received.

THE MEN behind this promotion were sentenced from one to five years in a federal penitentiary for committing a fraud against trusting people who believed the company's claims that merchandise could be purchased below wholesale or factory prices by joining a buyers club.

Deal with responsible merchandisers whose reliability can be verified through your Better Business Bureau.

Phyllis A Rare Bird

Barbara Bladen

WE OBSERVED the rare spotted comediennd upuss with the feathered crest and the furry body, easily identified by a hawking chortle familiar to television viewers, in its natural habitat last week.

More commonly known as Phyllis Diller, who was nesting at the Fairmont Hotel during her week-long appearances at Circle Star Theatre, greeted us in a vicuna tent-shaped dress under a Somali leopard coat with mink trim and a molting pheasant speckled feather hat and fake leopard spotted velvet boots.

Only Phyllis Diller could wear a get-up like this and get away with it. She actually looked marvelous. Since her marriage to actor-singer Warde Donovan, the kookie comedienne has gotten prettier. She still plays the role of a cartoon character "like Dagwood and Blondie" she says, but has recently departed from this image with two startling innovations.

"I always have been an actress, although people haven't realized it but now that I've signed with Bob Hope for five pictures, I'll get a chance to prove it."

As she described the master comedian's approach. "Phyllis, I was sitting in a plane watching the stewardess walk down the ceiling looking for the pent-house and thought of you for the maid's role in my next picture," she punctuated the story with the explosive laugh that has become her trademark.

She would have gladly done it for nothing but in the "way of the trade" her agents arranged for the pay scale and it turned out the studio had to rewrite the story to enlarge the maid's role to make it all worthwhile. All her scenes are with Hope and her co-stars are Elke Sommer and Marjorie Lord. It's title, "Bobby, Did I Get a Wrong Number?"

HOPE HAD BEEN scouting her for years. He would watch all her appearances on television and would catch her night-club act as often as possible.

"You're so hokey, you're like a walking turkey platter," he told her. "He really directed me, although George Marshall gets the credit. Bob is so loyal, all his favorite technicians are practically in wheel chairs. My manager, Don Arlett, called the set Sun City. Between three cameramen, they added up to 150 years' worth of experience."

Another phase in the career of Miss Diller is the true, but incredible fact, that she has been photographed on a bare skin rug (in the same state of non-attire that babies pose in) as the foldout girl in Playboy magazine. Now are you ready for that!

"I thought they were kidding and showed up with nine trunks of luggage. By the time they convinced me it was for real, nude type stuff, I talked the photographer into stripping, too." Then she breaks up into little pieces laughing at her own joke. "They're calling me the Playmate of year 2,000." I was never sure if she was kidding me or not.

An 'Opening' at Serra Vista

DR. PAUL NIELSEN, superintendent of schools, turns over the keys to Serra Vista School's new multi-use room to P-TA president Mrs. William Funderburk. The new building was financed by the school bond issue of September, 1964. It includes play facilities, stage, cafeteria and office space.

Pornography Is A Mulchworm

Samuel Chandler

A LETTER from a gentleman calls my attention to an article entitled "The Damning Case Against Pornography" by O. K. Armstrong appearing in December's Reader's Digest and asks my opinion.

Several times, in this column, I have made my position clear—with at least a hundred thousand others who disseminate knowledge and entertainment through libraries or by some other means of communication (TV programs and movies, for example).

I am opposed to pornography as I am opposed to unchastity.

But let's be sure we are talking about the same thing. Pornography can be defined as the subversion of art for obscene and unchaste purposes. It is vulgar, scummy, offensive to the ears of the polite. It is a thing that grows in a mind that needs to be flushed.

So, of course, I agree with Armstrong, pornography should be kept out of the hands of an immature person. Moreover, I like his statement "So the battle against the evils of obscenity must be a battle also for that which is wholesome and good."

LET US begin the battle by recognizing the difference between true art and pornography. Art has a lofty purpose: to express beauty; to motivate; to inform; to entertain; to explain; to convince; to induce anger. Whatever its purpose, art may be defined as a skillful and systematic arrangement of means for the attainment of some end.

Often times the sole purpose of an artist—as has been said before—is to hold a mirror before society's face. If what appears in the mirror is ugly, it is not the artist's fault.

If what we see is sexual promiscuity, profanity and other signs of degeneration we should move to change the image—not to censor the artist and surpress his work.

In all probability, his sole purpose in creating the mirror was to show society what needs to be corrected. But too many of us disregard his purpose. We call him dirty because he uses words that we use although we attempt to conceal the fact that we use them. We are like the reader who said "Henry Miller is a S.O.B. because he prints words that men use when women leave the room."

THAT'S WHAT Miller is telling us. We are hypocrites. We have a set of morals to use in some occasions and a set of vices to use in others.

But in the world Miller pictures, the people live by their vices alone. So the characters degenerate and pull society down with them. If such living becomes more widespread, the results will be the death of all culture.

To understand the artists whose senses are so offended, they try to show us that where our society is repulsive it requires a degree of maturity. So certainly I believe young people should be educated to understand it rather than to laugh at it or what is worse, to despise it in an immature manner.

Westmoor Students Hear Vice President Humphrey

Sixteen Westmoor High students were selected from their U.S. history classes by history teacher Alvin Wolf to hear Vice President Hubert Humphrey speak in the Continental Ballroom at the Hilton Hotel to the various members of the boards of education of California on December 3.

After words from Governor Brown, Humphrey, a former teacher, spoke for approximately 45 minutes while the students stood at the back of the hall. At one time he made a reference to the Westmoor students, saying that he would rather speak to high school students than to adults.

After his speech, Humphrey met the students again in the hall, shook their hands, stated that he was happy that they were able to get in, and that he would have enjoyed talking to them but that he was pressed for time.

The sixteen students were: Muriel Friedman, Shay Abbey, Bob Liston, James Gates, Ruth Fleischer, Virginia Lee, Diana Bravos, Kathy McGenity, Patricia Breanan, Cheryl Kern, Barbara Krow, Fredica Klemm, Bob Bertolani Mike Barsotti, Christine Bertling, and Michele Bigon.

Yule Mail Floods D.C. Post Office

SURROUNDED by sacks and stacks of mail and parcel post items, Daly City Postmaster Vincent Murphy examines a package ready for delivery. With the postmaster are two D.C. mailmen: Terry Curley, left, and Gary Kern. Murphy has announced that the four post offices in the city have set special hours during which they will remain open to handle the Christmas flood of mail.

Post-Times Newsboys Take Trip

Ninety-six Post-Times newspaperboys, including 20 free trip winners, went on the annual November trip to Disneyland.

After going to bed early but staying up late in anxiety the night before, the boys exctiedly assembled at San Franciseo International Airport.

At 8:30 a.m. their large jet plane was airborne, carrying with it their six adult supervisors and some mighty surprised regular passengers.

After landing in Los Angeles the group embarked on chartered buses for Disneyland.

Before entering the gates, each boy was given a "Magic Key" book of tickets good for admission to any ten rides in the park.

In addition each boy received lunch money, which was soon used up on cotton candy, peanuts, and soda pop.

It was truly an unforgettable experience; many of the boys being away from home for the first time.

Late in the afternoon the round-trip began and after gathering all the boys back into the buses, the trek began back to the L.A. Airport. The return flight was delayed a half hour while a wing light was replaced, and at 9:15 p.m. the boys were returned to their waiting parents at San Francisco Airport.

Here are the North County boy wsho made the trip:

From San Mateo, Ricky Calerone, Joaquin Luiz, Eric Beeson, Douglas Coats, Peter Lerch, Edmund Lee, Curtis Coats, Adam Wong, Dexter McKenna, Andy McKenna, Kevin Keane, Eddie Dan, Frank Ercoli, Vaughn Anderson and Paul Mazzotti from South San Franicsco.

Steve and Robert Petty from Pacifcia.

Robert Baba from Daly City.

Ram Econ Students To Hold Party

Westmoor High School's home economics rooms have been transformed this holiday season as Westmoor's annual Christmas party takes place from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today.

Preparation for the holiday season has been going on since Thanksgiving. Highlighting the day will be the holiday projects each of the girls in the home ecconomics department have been creating, some of which will be sold today.

The girls have produced 21 different kinds of cookies and five varieties of nut breads and yeastbreads, and will be acting as hostesses, serving the 3,000 cookies with gallons of coffee and punch today.

The rooms are decorated with satin streamers with silver bells. Home economics instructors.

D.C. Boy Gets Academic Honor

Cadet Rudolf Christians, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Christians of 1203 South Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, has achieved high academic honors at San Rafael Military Academy, during the recently completed grading period, it was announced by Mr. L. W. Robertson, dean of instruction.

Cadet Chrstians was awarded the distinctive honor cord for maintaining a B plus grade average during the period.

Jaycees To Put PIPAP Into Motion

Plans for operation "PIPAP" were announced last week by Bill Whipple, president of the Daly City Jaycees.

The initials represent "Public Information Program — Accidental Poisoning."

The incidence of accidental poisoning is growing at an alarming rate, particularly among young children.

More children die from accidental poisoning than from polio, diptheria, measles, typhoid and scarlet fever COMBINED.

Every 38 seconds another poisoning is recorded. Over 15,000 each week, over 800,000 each year. Last year over 1,600 poisoning deaths were reported.

Most of these could have been prevented if an universal antidote had been administered. Every home should have this antidote in the family medicine cabinet.

The Daly City Jaycees are making "Unidote," the universal antidote, available as part of a public service program.

Booths will be set up at the Westlake Shopping area this Saturday, December 18, all day long, to sell the antidote for $1, and to distribute poison preventive literature.

GIFTS STOLEN

Marion Newell of 419 Skyline Daly City ,reported to police last week that thieves had stolen Christmas presents, valued at $35, from her auto, parked in a parking lot near the West ake Shopping Center.

Although local bus service started in Pacifica this week, residents who commute to San Francisco by Greyhound buses, will continue to press for off-freeway bus stops.

"We are extremely grateful for the new bus service and will find it useful to go to meetings or during unpleasant weather but we cannot afford the extra 70 cents a day when we commute to and from the city," said Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, spokesman for the group seeking the bus stops.

The El Mar Transit (little red buses) will cover all areas between Pacific Manor in the north of Pacifica and Pedro Point on the southern boundary.

Mrs. Calhan, who heads the Manor Village Improvement Club, which is advocating more Greyhound bus stops, said that Mayor James Fox attended a meeting of the club last week and offered to have the council work on the problem.

"It was the city that had the bus stops put on the freeway in the first place," Mrs. Calhan stated.

The Greyhound Company has refused to make any change, Mrs. Calhan said, since the company was not responsible for the present bus stops.

Coast C of C Given Auto

Bernard Lake, manager of the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, drove away from Howard Cuyler Chevrolet in Pacifica Manor Friday morning with a shiny, new 1966 Chevrolet—only he didn't buy it—it was a gift to the chamber.

E. C. Cordero and Howard Cuyler, representing the auto firm, presented the willow green, two-door Chevelle sport coupe to he chamber at a short ceremony in front of the Chevrolet dealer on Oceana Boulevard.

Ten Students Participate In Contest

Ten Westmoor High School students competed in the eighth annual mathematics contest held at the University of Santa Clara on November 20.

They are:

Seniors, Dennis Barbata, Robert Brodie, Brad Hansen, Tim Herbert, and Greg McHugh.

Taking part in the three-hour contest were students from high schools throughout the Bay Area.

Scholarships to the University of Santa Clara were awarded to one student in each of the four classifications of freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior.

In preparation for the test the Westmoor Math Club devoted its meeting to a discussion of the 1964 test. Contestants were given tickets at that time, and transportation plans were made.

Rodney Crittenden, mathematics teacher, headed the Ram group.

Linda Mar Features a Bright Tree

The Linda Mar Shopping Center is presenting this year an unusual Christmas tree in the middle of the center.

The tree features electronic blending of both sound and color. It will be covered with light globes called Kaleidospheres.

The globes will change their colors in time with music that is played.

James Diamond, Merchants' Association president, says that the tree is similar to those displayed at the White House and the New York World's Fair. He says that these trees are "among the most beautiful in the nation."

Local choral groups have been invited to sing in the center during the holiday season.

Diamond says that the "dancing tree will respond with a visual interpretation of their carols."

Civil Defense Budget Talk Is Postponed

Discussion on the Pacifica Civil Defense budget was postponed at last week's CD meeting, according to the director, Paul Rushing.

"We have to await the outcome of the Ctiy Council decision on the use of bunkers as an emergency operating center for Civil Defense," he said.

If the former World War II bunkers, located east of the Coast Highway above Oceana High School, are approved by Pacifica as a police headquarters and Civil Defense center, 50 per cent of their improvement cost will have to be paid by the city, part of it coming out of the Civil Defenes budget.

The state and federal governments will pay the remainder of the expenses.

Consulting engineers estimate the cost of converting the bunker sat $106,000.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT TECHNICIANS
We have several interesting and challenging assignments available here at the Research and Development Laboratories for above-average technicians who have had 2 years' college level training in one of the sciences, or who have had directly applicable military schooling and experience. Individuals selected will work in close co-operation with our scientists and engineers in carrying out advanced work in the areas of solid state physics/chemistry/electronics. Recent commensurate industrial experience is extremely desirable but not absolutely necessary if individual possesses the minimum educational background, or service schooling and experience, and is capable of learning our techniques, and willing to start at the trainee level.

Interested applicants please telephone Mrs. Ruth Harter at 321-7250 for additional information and to arrange a personal interview. We are an equal opportunity employer.

FOREMAN
We are looking for a mature individual who is capable of assuming full responsibility for hiring, training, and supervising female operators in a newly formed Digital Integrated Electronics Department here at the Laboratories. This is a ground-floor opportunity that offers excellent growth potential. In addition to a proven record of ability as a supervisor, individual should be completely familiar with masking, diffusion, and device assembling techniques, or comparable techniques normally associated with small electronic components manufacturing processes. Formal schooling beyond high school, preferably in one of the sciences, would also be highly desirable.

If you are interested, and feel that you qualify for this excellent assignment, please submit detailed resume, including salary history and requirements, to Personnel Department. All inquiries held in strictest confidence and acknowledged. We are an equal opportunity employer.

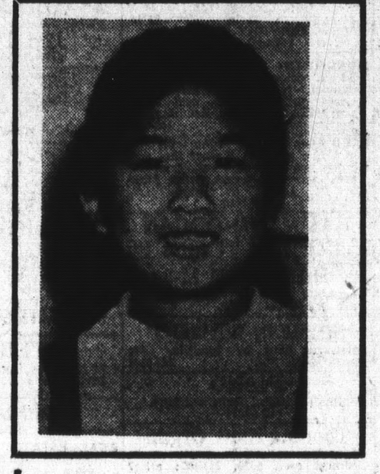
"WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME"



TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

$5 GIFT CERTIFICATE for

JOAN MASAOKA
2701 Sunset Terrace, San Mateo, California

Joan Masaoka is 7 years old and attends Meadow Heights School in San Mateo. Joan has a brother 12 and a sister 14. She goes to Sunday School and her mother tells us she just loves to memorize scriptures, this is her favorite hobby. Joan belongs to a Brownie Troop in San Mateo, too. Joannie writes, "What Christmas means to me is when Santa Claus comes, he always brings his reindeer with him and comes with all his toys for you and me. It started at the first Christmas when Jesus was born and that's what Christmas means to me."

DAVID STARCK
576 Skyline Drive, Daly City, California

David is a first grader in the Christopher Columbus School in Daly City. He is 6 years old and has two sisters, age 4 years and the baby 5 months. A canary named "Tiny" keeps him lots of company. David collects fire engines, this is his favorite hobby. In fact, if David does not change his mind as he gets older he will probably be a fireman, too, as you will see from his letter. Oh yes, there is one other outlet that David has, he likes to go fishing with his Dad. Davids says in his letter to us, "Christmas means to me that I want to be a fireman and all my broken toys I will fix at the firehouse and give them to poor children."

5 CITIES LISTED

Effect of Sales Tax Income Told

A survey of the effect of the steadily increasing sales tax on the property tax structure of San Mateo County last week showed that in only five cities—coincidentally those which have experienced a continuing climb in sales tax return—have property taxes reflected a reduction.

Executive Director Kenneth Norris of the Governmental Research Council which undertook the survey, said that it is recognized that all of the county's cities — and the county — are doing an excellent job in trying to curbe the property tax rise.

During the 1965-66 period, it is estimated that the sales tax return here will reach an all-time high of $8,985,388, or a boost of $741,913 over the preceding year, according to the GRC.

Cities which have successfully used the sales tax, and have coincidentally felt the continuing sales tax increase, are listed as San Mateo, San Bruno, South San Francisco, Menlo Park and Brisbane. Hillsborough has no sales tax. Colma has no property tax, and the report does not include the new city of Portola.

Of the five cities mentioned, the sales tax is 234 per cent higher in Brisbane, or $125,000 as compared to its property tax which is $53,321, San Carlos shows its sales tax of $544,800 is 85 per cent of the $638,462 property tax revenue. In San Mateo the $1,535,957 sales tax income is 66 per cent of the $2,332,516 property tax total.

South San Francisco has $1,100,000 in sales tax, making it 83 per cent of the $1,320,319 received through property taxes.

Four Generations Get Together

Board Seeks To Avoid Tax Rule

County supervisors took steps last week to rid themselves of the thankless job of ruling on assessment equalization matters.

The board adopted an ordinance establishing a tax appeals board to sit in its place in equalizatoin hearings. The ordinance requries special action by the state lgeislature before it becomes effcetive, however.

The tax appeals board would be copmosed of three qualifeid persons, most likely professional appraisers.

They wolud be selected in this manner: each supervisor would nominate three to five persons and the names of the three to serve would be drawn from a hat by the presiding judge of the superior court.

Each appointee would serve for three years, except at first the original three would serve staggered terms.

It was agreed that board members would be paid $50 a day for each day they sit on equalization hearngs.

The county board sought the necessary legislative action in the recent special session but Governor Brown would not allow it to be taken up.

County Manager E. R. Stallings told the supervisors, however, that the governor has given assurances that the matter will be included on the special call to run concurrently with the budget session next year.

Stallings said there is a problem of timeing because the local ordinance must be effective before the end of January if the appeals board is to be in operation during the equalization period next summer.

Mary's Help Hospital

"High on a Hill" in Daly City is the magnificent new Mary's Help Hospital--a modern landmark dedicated to serving mankind. Its completion is cause for celebration among the thousands who have helped make it a reality.

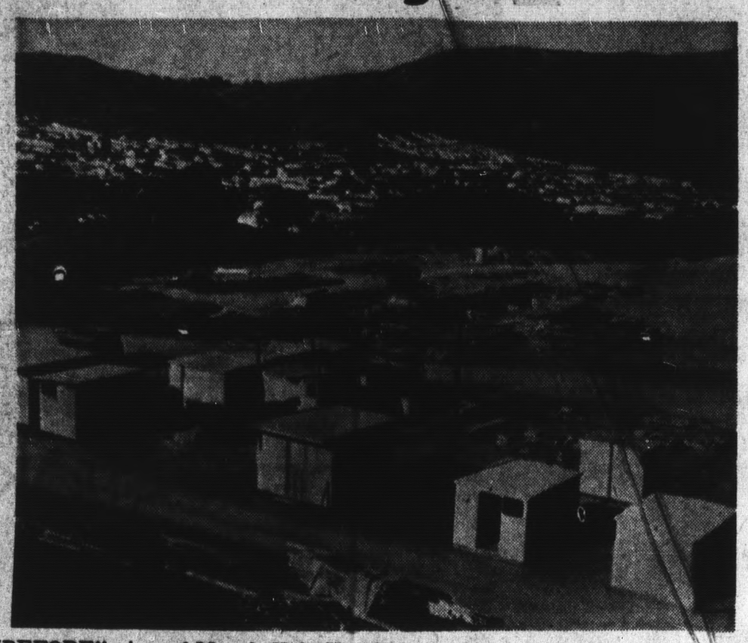
Mary's Help Opens a New, 'View' Hospital

Before Building Started...



"BEFORE" view of Mary's Help Hospital site, high atop a hill above the intersection of Junipero Serra Boulevard and Eastmoor Avenue, shows contractor's sheds and first forms for concrete (at center. The hospital took almost two and a half years to complete. General contractor was the F. P. Lathrop Company.

11-Story Facility Serves Northern San Mateo County

NORTHERN San Mateo County's first major hospital facility, Mary's Help Hospital, opened its doors on a hilltop site in Daly City this week.

The 11-story, 250-bed hospital cost $8.5 million to build. It will be formally dedicated at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Operated by the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, the building, situated off San Fernando Way, near Eastmoor Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard, commands an unobstructed 360-degree panoramic view of the Bay Area.

The architects, Stone, Marraccini and Patterson, designed the structure to provide a view from every patient's bed. The hospital was constructed by the F. P. Lathrop Construction Company over a 2½-year period, beginning in the summer of 1963.

OPEN TO ALL, regardless of religion, age, nationality, color, residence or fraternal affiliation, the new Mary's Help serves residents of an area including Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco and Pacifica, as well as the southern residential section of San Francisco itself.

This locale, designated as the top priority area of Northern California most in need of hospital services, was chosen by the Daughters of Charity late in 1960 to replace the old Marys' Help Hospital in the San Francisco Mission District where it was established in 1912.

Health facilities include medical and surgical care on intensive, intermediate and selective bases according to the patients' need; maternity, pediatric and orthopedic care; complete diagnostic services, and a 24-hour emergency service.

The new Mary's Help also will participate in nursing and medical education programs and charges will be kept to a minimum, with "free" and "part free" care provided those in poor economic circumstances.

"The hospital has been so designed," explained Dean L. Folker, proejct architect, "that it can quickly and easily be expanded to a total of 400 beds. Our design provided for a future additional 150 beds on the three top floors, which have been completely 'shelled' out for this purpose."

Assistance to the Daughters of Charity in financing was provided by a Hill-Burton grant of some $3 million and by a community-wide fund drive.

The rugged hilltop site of the new hospital required careful design treatment to minimize sun and wind problems while at the same time taking advantage of the panoramic view

Full-size mock-ups were developed by the architects and were studied prior to completion of the design of a working prototype endorsed by the Mary's Help doctors, nurses and administrative staff.

The details of the design of the hospital strongly suggest the dramatic winged cornette which for centuries was the emblem of the Daughters of Charity, one of the oldest religious orders of the Catholic Church.

Established in 1663, in Paris, the order now has in excess of 45,000 members supervising more than 3,500 hospitals, schools and orphanages throughout the world.

Each nursing floor of the new Mary's Help has a 56-bed maximum capacity, with only a nominal distance from nursing station to bedside. Visitor traffic is controlled from each nursing station.

Housing also is provided within the hospital for chaplains and guests and for sisters of the nursing order.

THE TYPICAL FLOOR provides a spacious nursing complex for charting, medication, utility, examination and treatment, easily accessible from both corridors. This double corridor plan also tends to separate visitor and patient traffic.

A variation is found in the triangular lounge in the obstetrics department. Mothers and their visitors can sit adjacent to the nursery viewing rooms without interfering with professional and service traffic, which has been routed by a separate corridor to the inner nursing core.

A ground floor supply core houses laundry, storage, central supply, receiving, maintenance and housekeeping facilities.

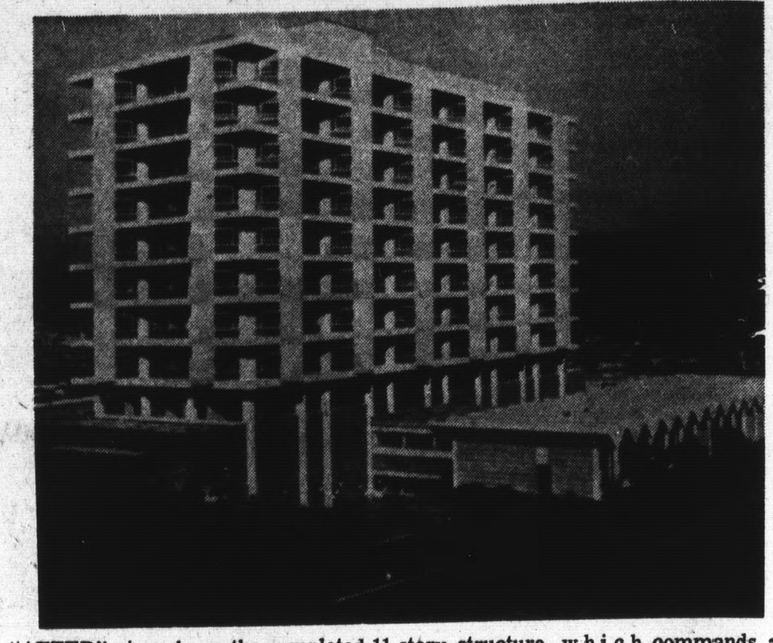
For an efficient vertical supply flow, the central supply has been connected to all floors and to surgery and obstetrics by automatic conveyors. Space adjacent will allow administrative office additions as required in the future.

On the first floor, the south entrance lobby groups the administrative offices and the Sancuary-Chapel in a "T" shape.

THE CONVENT for 20 sisters of the order is in the East Wing, connected with the south entrance T-shape by a private corridor and the Community Room to be used by the sisters. A terraced court in this area will be landscaped and a private Convent garden adjoins the Community Room.

Out-patient and emergency departments are on parallel corridors on the first floor. The automobile or ambulance entrance to each of these departments has canopy protection against inclement weather.

...And After It Ended



"AFTER" view shows the completed 11-story structure, which commands a sweeping view of the surrounding North County and southern San Francisco area. The top three floors of the building are "shelled in" and will be furnished and equipped at a later date.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

D.C. Leaders Say 'Welcome'

Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City, in welcoming Mary's Help Hospital to Daly City, has issued this official statement on behalf of the City Council and city administration:

"We welcome the Daughters of Charity and Mary's Help Hospital to the Daly City community. In addition, we recognize that this wonderful facility will be immediately available to residents of Pacifica, San Bruno, South San Francisco and other parts of northern San Mateo County as well as to Daly City and San Francisco.

"It will be the newest and most modern hospital on the Peninsula and the people of this community are proud to have been able to participate and to have been a factor in locating this new hospital in our area.

"The hospital will not only enhance the area with its imposing edifice, but will also be an important factor in our community life—generating business sales, the construction of other new buildings, and an increased population. In general, it will stimulate the economy of the surrounding area. It will also provide for a complete and very sorely needed emergency hospital service.

"Possibly the most gratifying aspect of this new hospital service is that in this day of spiraling taxes and bond issues, it is wonderful to have a hospital of this size come into our community and be self-supporting. We have acquired an $8.5-million enterprise without the taxpayers of Daly City or the surrounding areas being taxed for a modern hospital facility.

"We are looking forward to a continued fine relationship with the Daughters of Charity, the Mary's Help Hospital administration and all those who were a part of the efforts in making this the outstanding project of this year for Daly City."

Archbishop To Preside At Ceremony

Mary's Help Hospital will be dedicated in a solumn and colorful ceremony at 3 p.m., Saturday afternoon in front of the hospital's main entrance off San Fernando Way in Daly City. The public is invited.

Archbishop Joseph T. McGucken of the San Francisco Diocese will preside and bless a dedicatory plaque that will be mounted to the left of the main entrance.

The dedicatory address will be delivered by Judge George B. Harris, chairman of Mary's Help Hospital Advisory Board.

Other speakers will include Sister Mary Rose of St. Louis, the provincial superior of the Daughters of Charity, Western Province, who operate Mary's Help; Sister Louise, Mary's Help administrator; Mayor Francis Pacelli of Daly City, and Dr. George L. Torassa, president of the hospital's medical-dental staff.

Music will be provided by the Jefferson High School band and by the Daly City Community Chorus.

The hospital officially opened last Sunday morning with the transfer of 27 patients from the old Mary's Help building on Guerrero Street in San Francisco.

Therapy Unit To Play Role In Treatment

WHAT HAS been called the "miracle medical age" in which we now live, with its arresting and cure of many erstwhile fatal or crippling diseases, has brought into focus the increasing need for more scientific methods of physical therapy and rehabilitation.

The new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, in concert with its over-all goal of providing the maximum in patient care, offers a model unit for the restoration of bodies partially or wholly disabled through illness or injuries.

Pending the appointment of an M.D. specialist in physical medicine, Andrew Hubert, a physio-therapist who received his early training in Europe, is in charge of the department.

"The new facility in Daly City," said Hubert, "is ideally arranged and thoughtfully provided with all essential equipment.

Hoffman To End Service

Gene Hoffman, pubilc relations director for Mary's Help Hospital, will retire from his post at the end of this year—ending four years service.

He previously had "retired" as first vice president in charge of public relations and advertising for American President Lines. Prior to his APL service, he was Chicago bureau manager for the old International News Service.

Hoffman prepared much of the material upon which the stories and pictures in this special section are based.

HALF-CENTURY OF SERVICE

A Long, Bright History

BORN IN the agony of earthquake and fire, followed by years of court action, Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco was destined to survive a half century of some of the most critical periods in American history.

During two world wars, a nationwide epidemic of influenza and the great depression of the 1930's, Mary's Help Hospital in the Mission District became the bright spot in the lives of uncounted thousands of sick, impoverished and depressed.

Cornerstone of the new hospital was laid in 1903. The site on Guerrero Street and much of the construction cost had been contributed by Mrs. Kate Johnson, a convert to Catholicism, and widow of the late Robert Johnson of Sonoma.

But Mrs. Johnson died, Dec. 3, 1903, before she could see her dream fulfilled. Subsequent litigation over her estate delayed completion of the sturcture.

Then, on April 18, 1906, the nearly finished building was razed by the earthquake and fire.

Many heartbreaks later, under the guidance of Archbishop Riordan, with banker Robert J. Tobin serving as his advisory board chairman, the project was finally completed.

On July 2, 1912, the Archbishop said a mass of dedication in the hospital chapel, and the same day the first patient was admitted.

TEN DAUGHTERS of Charity, including the first administrator, Sister Mary Angela O'Brien, were assigned to operate the facility. Among this charter group were two sisters who are still members of the community at Mary's Help.

They are sister Agatha Flynn and Sister Ernestine Viniecke, whose golden jubilees are long past. Sister Agatha, already an R.N., studied pharmacy and became the first woman registered pharmacist in the state of California.

Considered "far across the tracks" from San Francisco's plush residential areas, Mary's Help Hospital even then (like its striking successor in Daly City today) was a "new and different kind of hospital," to quote Administrator Sister Louise.

For one thing, no one ever knocked in vain at the door of Mary's Help Hospital . . . even during the darkest days of the great depression, nor the tragic flu epidemic of World War I.

Cots filled every available space, in the corridors, and even in the basement; but by some miracle of divine providence every critical demand was met.

And it made no difference, the color of the patient's skin, what religion, if any, he professed, or whether he had a dime on his person . . . usually he did not.

MARY'S HELP, despite its lack of top social acceptance, had other distinguished and compensating "differences." For instance, on July 19, 1913 —the feast of St. Vincent de Paul, patron of the poor—and only one year from the hospital's delayed opening, Mary's Help established its renowned out-patient clinic for the poor and underprivileged.

This free clinic, according to newspapers of the day, was "the first of its kind in California."

Another remarkable "difference" was the type of doctors attracted to its staff and outpatient clinic.

Many of the most prominent names in Bay Area medicine are recorded as having contributed generously of their time in treating clinic patients who were impoverished.

The Vincentian example of the Daughters of Charity seemed to inspire these good men, of all faith, to donate their time and talents to God's poor . . . unwitting victims of illness and the great depression.

It has been said that the sisters were so busy during the days of war, pestilence and the depression that they had no time to keep records on the number of patients—free or part-pay—who went through the poratls of their clinic.

BUT IT IS known that one day in early 1964, in an old, yellowing register, they recorded their 100,000th free clinic patient — a widow of 38 with seven children, aged 4 to 14—who was suffering from terminal cancer.

Only the recording angel will ever know for sure the numbers treated and the depths of service rendered by these dedicated Daughters of Charity and by the many men of medicine who gave so freely of their services.

Coincidental with its opening in 1912, a school of nursing was inaugurated at Mary's Help Hospital.

Over the half century of the school's existence (now closed preparatory to the move) approximately 1,000 R.N.'s were graduated. It is expected the school will be resumed later at the new hospital.

In 1953 the widely-known and well-beloved Sister Mary Rose McPhee, now provincial superior of the western province of the Daughters of Charity, became administrator of Mary's Help Hospital where she served until 1960.

It was she who recognized the futility of trying to renovate and continue operations in the old Mary's Help building which had, in fact, become obsolete.

She then began casting about for a new location.

With the help of her able assistant, Lawrence Hoban, the hurdles of building commissions and governmental hearings in regard to the Hill Burton Act were surmounted.

THEN SISTERS Mary Rose was transferred to St. Louis and was cucceeded by Sister Hermine Regan who had just completed a hospital construction project in Milwaukee, Wis. tion project in Milwaukee,Wis.

Sister Hermine was active in the planning and building of the new Mary's Help in Daly City until May of this year when she embraced a new mission in Quito, Ecuador.

She was succeded by Sister Louise, present administrator, who is now involved in the trying complexities of closing out old Mary's Help Hospital in the Mission, and opening the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

Admissions Department Has Key Role

MRS. HELEN KELLY, director of the Admitting Department at Mary's Help Hospital, believes that her department is one of the most important in the facility . . . and for these specific reasons:

"As a rule, our department is the first contact a patient has with the hospital," she said, "and for many persons it is their first experienec in going to a hospital as a patient. Quite naturally they are apprehensive or downright scared.'"

"Our first effort, therefore," she continued, "is to put the incoming patient at ease, and try to reassure him by our own smiling, confident attitude. Despite how ill the patient may later prove to be, this cheerful, psychological approach can certainly do no harm."

Mrs. Kelly went on to explain that admitting procedures vary with circumstances. Barring emergency situations, usually a patient knows in advance that he or she is to be hospitalized, and the doctor makes the necessary arrangements, furnishing the hospital with the name, address, and telephone number ,and tentative disgnosis of the patient, plus the date and time of arrival.

CLINICAL STUDIES

Lack of Lab Is Like Flying Blind

"TRYING TO run a hospital today . . . any hospital . . . without an up-to-date clinical laboratory would be like trying to fly a modern jet plane blind through heavy fog without an instrument panel," stated Gilbert Colberg, chief laboratory technologist of the new hospital.

"Fortunately, the day is gone forever when a doctor has to diagnose and commence treating an illness on the basis of surface symptoms and what the patient tells him. Today the doctor has to have certain and detailed knowledge of the patient's condition, and this is where the clinical laboratory functions to supply the physician with precise information and findings.

"To use the jet plane analogy again," he continued, "it's our job, in co-operation with the radiology and X-ray department, to put the doctor and attending staff on course and keep them there."

QUERIED ABOUT the scope of his duties within the laboratory department, Colberg said they included chemistry, bacteriology, hematology, serology, urinalysis, blood bank, and autopsy.

Colberg stated that the new facility in Daly City would be one of the most modern and best equipped research departments in the Bay Area, staffed by fully certified doctors in pathology assisted by well-trained, fully qualified technologists, all licensed by the State of Caifornia.

The laboratory will offer service on a 24-hour basis in order to offer maximum service to our medical staff and patients, as well as meeting the emergency needs of the densely populated North San Mateo County area.

"WE WILL have many new automated methods for doing various routine tests," Colberg said. "These will include the Coulter Counter for doing red and white blood cell counts, and the auto-analyzer for making numerous chemistry tests automatically, and with speed and precision."

Summing up the philosophy of the department, Colberg continued: "As a vital department of the new Mary's Help Hospital, we do not expect to be content merely with the performance of routine laboratory tests necessary to the diagnosis and treatment of specific cases, but to engage in research which is so essential to the continued advancement of medical science.

Emergency Department Stays Busy

PERHAPS THE busiest department . . . and certainly one of the most important . . . of the new Mary's Help Hospital is its emergency department.

"Because there are no opening and closing hours during which accidents and emergencies occur," opines Mrs. Alice Alexander, R.N., supervisor of the emergency facility, "we must keep open 24 hours a day — twice around the clock."

Mrs. Alexander, who received her B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin, her R.N. from Milwaukee County Hospital and served as head nurse in surgery at Chicago's Cook County Hospital, views her department as an "indispensable unit in the overall team plan of Mary's Help Hospital to provide the highest possible standard in patient care."

"Located as we are," she continued, "virtually at the vortex of a network of new freeways and super-highways which criss-cross the San Francisco Peninsula at its fastest-growing residential and industrial area, we are bound to have a high incidence of traffic accidents and other emergencies. The urgent need for these emergency facilities

New Hospital Filled With Costly Features

Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City is being acclaimed as having some of the finest and most costly features of any hospital in the West.

There is good reason for this claim.

A listing of the features of the hospital reveals:

An Intercommunicating nurse-call system enables a patient to talk to the nurse at her station and the nurse to the patient.

A novel emergency call system permits the nurse or patient to summon aid.

Low-level paging speakers throughout the corridors do not distract or irritate.

A pneumatic tube system with automatic dispatching connects all nursing units with service areas.

An automatic tray-vayor provides conveyance and discharge of supply trays.

Dictating phones are provided throughout the facility for use of the doctors.

There are 180 medical and surgical beds, 42 obstetrical beds, 28 pediatric beds and a host of other varieties of beds.

The total cost of the hospital exceeds $8.5 million.

FORTE IS CHARITY

Hope Is Hospital's Prime Ingredient

"A HAVEN OF hope for all those who are ill in body, mind or spirit . . . a new different kind of hospital!"

Thus, in a sentence, did Sister Louise, administrator of Mary's Help Hospital, sum up her thinking about the majestic new ten-story facility which was opened for service Sunday, with the colorful dedication ceremony on Saturday.

To long-time residents of San Francisco's Mission District Sunday was a day of sadness, if not actual mourning.

After the last patient was safely moved to the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, these people saw a beloved door close for the last time . . . a door that for over half a century had been open—day and night — to the poor, the sick and the troubled, regardless of race, creed or color.

"This is one of the inevitabilities of time and change," said Sister Louise, "but as Daughters of Charity, we must go where we are needed most . . . and where we can render the maximum in service."

The new Daly City facility, Sister said, is the latest link in a world-wide chain of hospitals and other non-profit charitable institutions operated by the Daughters of Charity.

"BY A DIFFERENT kind of hospital," Sister Louise explained, "I mean simply this: that man is more than a mere mortal mechanism that gets out of kilter like an automobile or sewing machine. We hold, in common with all Christians and Jews, that man is a divinely created being, composed of body, mind and soul. And that illness is not always a matter of the body alone."

"In these days of increasing world tensions and mounting complexities of everyday life," Sister continued, "there is ever-growing need for treating the 'total' patient . . . by being mindful of any mental or spiritual disturbance as well as the more obvious physical afflictions. The latter, in fact, may often stem from the former. A generation ago 'psychosomatic illness' was virtually unknown."

The new Mary's Help Hospital centers an 11-acre site atop the highest hill in Daly City west of the San Bruno Mountains, and from its upper floors provides an unobstructed 360 degree panoramic view of the entire Bay Area.

It has taken 2½ years to construct (the ground-breaking date May 11, 1963).

LIKE ITS beloved predecessor of more than half a century of service to the people in San Francisco's Mission District (since 1912), the new Mary's Help Hospital will be open to all, regardless of race, religion, residence, age, nationality or economic status.

On this point, Sister Louise told assembled newsmen:

"Due to the age of old Mary's Help in the Mission, there is very little in the way of tangibles that could be moved and used in the new hospital. But one very definite and positive intangible we do plan to move with us is the old hospital's treasured tradition for charity, which forms the cornerstone of our order and was the motivating force of our co-founders, St. Vincent de Paul and St. Louise de Marillac."

Sister went on to explain that the impressive locales for the new Mary's Help Hospital was selected after careful planning and study when the sisters knew they would sooner or later have to move from the old, aging quarters.

Their research disclosed that the fast-growing residential and industrial area of North San Mateo County had been proclaimed the "top priority area of Northern California most in need of hospital services."

Then, by invitation of a special committee composed of mayors and other local county officials representing Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco and Pacifica, the sisters selected the site in Daly City.

ASSISTANCE IN financing the project was provided by a Hill-Burton grant in the amount of $3.75 million, and by a fund drive in the service area.

Starting with a capacity of 250 beds, the new hospital may later be expanded to a total of 400 beds without any additional building except to divide and equip the three top floors of the ten-story structure which are presently "shelled out" (frames built only) for this expansion purpose.

"We have a modern facility in every respect," Sister said, "with the latest diagnostic and treatment apparatus and surgical equipment, plus expansion potential for years to come. The new Mary's Help Hospital is specially designed and integrated on a departmental team basis so that the full and complete resources of the hospital may be utilized to assure the maximum in-patient care at all times."

They Played Pivot Roles for Mary's Help

ARCHBISHOP Joseph T. McGucken of the San Francisco Diocese will preside at the dedication of Mary's Help Saturday. A host of church governmental, school and community officials have been invited.

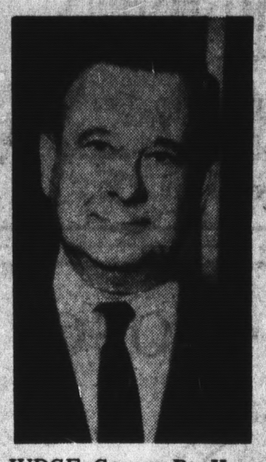
SISTER MARY ROSE is the Visitatrix of the Daughters of Charity, Western Province. Headquarters are in St. Louis. The order operates Mary's Help Hospital. Sister Mary Rose was administrator of Mary's Help from 1955 to 1960.

SISTER HERMINE was administrator for Mary's Help from 1960 to May, 1965. Under her leadership, the design and form of the new building took place and construction started. She is now serving in Peru.

SISTER LOUISE, present administrator of Mary's Help, was appointed to her post in June of this year. Previously, she had been working with a mission in Los Angeles. She is a member of the Daughters of Charity order.

LAWRENCE HOBAN, assistant administrator of Mary's Help Hospital, played a key role in the development of plans for the new building in Daly City and the subsequent realization of those plans.

DR. GEORGE L. TORASSA, is president of the medical - dental staff at Mary's Help Hospital. The staff is expected to increase by 50 members to a total of 300 at the outset of the new building's operation.



JUDGE George B. Harris is the chairman of the Mary's Help Hospital Advisory Board. Board members include leading North County and San Francisco citizens. The board helped guide the building fund drive.

ROY A. BRONSON, is chairman of the Mary's Help Hospital Building Fund Campaign. The fund drive, which is being continued, helped to raise part of the $8.5-million that the 11-story structure cost.

TV Monitors X-Ray Process

WHEN EDWARD WILSON, chief X-ray technologist at Mary's Help Hospital, was asked about the functions of his department, he replied, simply and unsmilingly: "We take pictures."

Just the way he said it made the questioner think of a jury filing into a courtroom after countless hours of deliberation. Guilty or not guilty? Life or death?

Only those who have sweated out seemingly endless hours of waiting in a hospital for a doctor's "verdict" know the impact of this figure of speech.

Wilson himself broke the spell with a hearty laugh.

"Listen," he admonished, "just because we work with negatives in the X-ray department, it doesn't mean I am negative about the fruits of my labor. On the contrary, it is one of the most hopeful and satisfying occupations I can imagine.

"Whenever I have time to think about it, I offer up a silent prayer of thanksgiving for all this wonderful, almost miraculous equipment we have today with which we can penetrate every nook and cranny of man's interior, and thus—even sometimes in the most advanced cases—save a life."

WILSON CONTINUED with enthusiasm, "Just think what the mortality rate would be without the revealing science of radiology."

"The radiology department of the new Mary's Help," said the man who will be head of it, "employs the latest techniques and devices to speed up patient recovery by obtaining vital information for the doctor that otherwise would not be available."

"This is especially true," he said, "in cases of complicated fractures, brain studies and all sorts of abnormalities resulting from injury or disease." And he added:

EDWARD WILSON

"We also assist the doctors in important studies in circulatory disorders where there is suspected or known blockages in arteries and-or veins.

"This is done by inserting specially designed catheters into the vein to the point of involvement.

"Then opaque dyes are injected and through the use of X-rays, the condition can be immediately determined and corrective measures taken. This remarkable device, when used in time, has prevented innumerable amputations.

OTHER SPECIALIZED equipment in X-ray procedures at the new Mary's Help Hospital, according to Wilson, include closed circuit TV, image amplifiers, automated injectors, rapid sequence filming equipment and last—but not least — automatic processors that save time for both the patient and the departmental staff.

Wilson is a veteran in his profession. He came to Mary's Help after 23 years at Southern Pacific Railroad Hospital in San Francisco.

He is listed in the American Registry of Radiological Technologists, is a counselor of the American Society of Radiological Technologists and for many years has been an instructor in X-ray Technology at City College of San Francisco.

ASKED FOR a thumbnail summary of his philosophy about the future of radiology, Wilson said:

"At the new Mary's Help Hospital, we have all necessary equipment and professional talent to carry out the administration's overall objective—namely, the maximum in patient care.

"As stated before, we deal mostly in negatives, but I am completely positive and optimistic in my belief in the potential for the saving of life and the healing of ill and injured through continued use and development of the science of radiology.

"You just can't find your way in the dark without a searchlight."

Trial Run for Call System

G.F. Murphy Given Post

Dr. Gerald F. Murphy, San Francisco specialist in internal medicine, is the chairman of the Department of Medicine at Mary's Help Hospital.

A graduate of the University of Illinois School of Medicine, Dr. Murphy is well known to the staff at Mary's Help in San Francisco where he did his internship and residency.

He also served in the latter capacity at St. Joseph's in Milwaukee and at the Milwaukee County Hospital.

Murphy is a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine and holds memberships in the San Franciso Medical Society, the California Medical Association and the American Medical Association.

Volunteers Give Helping Hand to Hospital Corps

"ONE OF THE most potent factors in the success of any non-profit voluntary hospital lies in the strength and degree of dedication manifested by its corps of women volunteers."

Such is the opinion of Caroline Bachman, director of volunteer services under the sponsorship of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild.

Mrs. Helen Vollert, of Park Merced, is the current president of the guild. The group meets every fourth Friday of the month at the hospital.

The guild's present membership is slightly in excess of 200 ladies, and is expected to double or triple its membership within a year or 18 months after moving into the new 10-story hospital in Daly City.

Among the volunteers are auxiliary members, businesswomen, neighbors, and friends of the hospital.

"WE ARE receiving many new applications for membership," said Mrs. Vollert. "This is good because in our new and fast-growing service area we will need many more active workers."

She explained the two types of membership — social and active — the latter pledging to contribute a minimum of 100 hours of in-service time each year.

The volunteers serve in all departments of the hospital except surgery.

To assist in clinic activities, securing equipment, and extra service items for patient care, the guild organizes three annual social events, namely, a fashion show in October, a Christmas boutique, and the big affair of the year—the Fuchsia Ball, which netted close to $20,000 for 1965.

The guild also has gift shops which make readily available those extra little items each visitor wants to take to the patient.

THE VOLUNTEERS, found throughout the hospital attired in pink pinafores, provide thousands of hours of service each year.

Pharmacy to Be Efficient And Speedy

IN KEEPING with all other departments of the new Mary's Help Hospital, the hospital pharmacy will be a model unit for fast and efficient preparation of prescriptions and other pharmaceutical needs.

The department is administered by Sister Susanne, who recently joined the Daughters of Charity at Mary's Help. She received her degree in pharmacy at St. John's University in New York.

"The compounding of medicinal herbs and drugs," said Sister Susanne, "is one of the oldest occupations in the history of man, even antedating the practice of medicine.

"And like the science of medicine, its closest counterpart, the pharmaceutical industry, has made and continues to make similar spectacular advances.

"Like the exploration of space," she continued, "the potential in medical research and curative drugs seems limitless."

AMONG THE features of her pharmacy in the new Mary's Help Hospital, Sister Susanne explained, are systems designed not only to speed up the filling and dispensing of prescriptions but also to minimize or eliminate errors.

The system involves the use of multi-colored forms to identify the most commonly used drugs.

Also, a copying process that will give the pharmacy an exact reproduction of the doctor's prescriptions for any given patient is employed.

The colored forms, Sister Susanne said, also will identify the price of the preparation and thus speed up the cost-accounting process.

AN AUTOMATED system of inter-floor conveyors, known as "tray-vayors," also will be used to expedite delivery.

Complementing this device will be an automated vacuum tube system for the delivery of prescriptions or other communications and forms to the pharmacy.

Sister Susanne said that Robert Grant, hospital maintenance superintendent, described the automated tray-vayor system of delivery as "dumbwaiters who have been to college."

In effect, they are similar to the old-fashioned dumbwaiters that were used to carry food and other materials from floor to floor.

The "tray-vayor" operates a push-button basis that designates a given floor. There it stops and automatically pushes its "cargo" onto a platform that is level with its stoppage station.

Emergency

alone have long been recognized by officials and civic leaders of the several municipalities within the new hospital's service area."

ASKED ABOUT the type of emergency facilities provided at the new Mary's Help Hospital, she said: "I can best sum it up by saying we are prepared to render the maximum emergency service to an ailing or injured president of the United States or a member of the royal family."

S.F. Building Served 53 Years

FOR MORE than a half century, this building housed Mary's Help Hospital on Guerrero Street in San Francisco's Mission District. A proposal to use the building as an out-patient facility for all Catholic hospitals in the area was vetoed because the building would require a costly repair and renovation program to bring it up to present day standards. The building opened in 1912 and officially closed last Sunday. (Hal Randall Photo)

PATIENT CARE

'Team Plan' Set By Nursing Staff

A CAREFULLY INTEGRATED "team plan of nursing," designed to achieve the maximum in patient care, will be one of the outstanding features of the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, according to Jessie A. Miller, director of nursing service.

Nursing recognizes that man is an entity with body and soul, heart, mind, feeling and emotions — not just "another case"—and the nursing care that is given to this concept is planned accordingly—using the various levels of professional knowledge and ability in a combined team effort to give maximum comfort.

"The team plan concept," explained Miss Miller, "is based on co-operative staff effort to make sure there are no gaps or lapses in ministering the highest possible standard of service to every patient entrusted to our care.

"Each member of the team will work under the direct supervision of her superior and will have had sufficient orientation, prior training and practice to synchronize her duties with those of other team members in the Nursing Service Department."

MISS MILLER likened her team nusring plan to a well-executed play in a football game. "The only difference," she smiled, "is that we have no opposing team and we allow ourselves no margin for errors."

The prime objectives, Miss Miller explained, are: (1) to improve the quality of patient care to meet the total needs of the patient; (2) to provide job satisfaction for all members of the nursing staff, and (3) to provide opportunity for educational advancement for members of the team.

CONTRIBUTORY objectives, she said, are:

"To promote more personalized care of the patient by giving personnel an opportunity for closer contact with smaller groups of patients so that they may better know their needs; and, secondly, to use nursing personnel to best advantage—and in so doing, free the head nurse to meet the demands of hospital and nursing service administration, the medical profession, and the educational program."

5 P.M. IS 'FORMAL'

Patients to Get Five Meals Daily

ADMITTEDLY, medical and nursing care are important in any well-run hospital. But beyond that it would be difficult to convince Sister Alice Marie, director of dietary service at Mary's Help Hospital, that any department is more important than hers.

"Healing is a fine art," she concedes, "but to get a patient well . . . and meanwhile keep him happy . . . nothing is more basic in his treatment than food — assuming it is of the highest quality, properly prepared, with frequent servings, and offering a wide and appetizing choice . . . within the limitations of a patient's diet."

Sister Alice Marie was asked what she meant by "frequent servings."

"At Mary's Help," she replied, "this means five meals a day . . . barring contrary instructions from the patient's doctor."

THEN SHE WENT on to explain the hospital's diet plans and practices.

The first meal is a small tray at 7 a.m., containing selections made by the patient the day before. The items include hot beverage, hot or cold cereals, sweet rolls or buttered toast and jam or jelly.

At 10 a.m., brunch is served, offering a choice of fruits and juices, bacon or ham and eggs, hot cooked or dry cereals, pancakes, French toast and beverage.

A small tray luncheon is the third meal—with a choice of hot soup, puddings, milkshakes and other beverages and a variety of open-face sandwiches — "sort of a snack luncheon," as Sister Alice Marie described it.

"THE FOCAL point of our dietary day," she continued, "is our 5 p.m. dinner. Here we go a bit formal, with linen-covered trays and linen napkins. The menu ranges, as the saying goes, 'from soup to nuts,' for the lucky patients not under dietary restrictions, which we are painfully required to observe."

While one is still drooling over the delectable items on the dinner menu, Sister Alice breaks the spell with this:

"Oh, I almost forgot meal number 5. Lest anyone go to sleep hungry, the snack cart comes around at 8 p.m. and offers the patient a 'nightcap' consisting of hot chocolate or fruit juices and cookies."

A great variety of interesting and attractive menus covering the five meals and designed for children and adults is planned.

Among Sister Alice Marie's displays is a letter from Charles M. Schulz, creator of the comic strip "Peanuts," authorizing her to use "Snoopy" on the dietary literature for patient information.

MOST OF THE new hospital's second floor is a dream-come-true kitchen and magnificent dining areas. The major portion of the space is the culinary area.

Stainless steel equipment is flanked by labor-saving devices for food preparation and handling.

Adjoining this area is the cafeteria with a panoramic view from ocean to bay, accommodating 150 diners. This facility will be used by employes and visitors. There are also private conference dining areas located on this floor.

The newest in food preparation methods and equipment used in the kitchen is paralleled by a system of delivery and of serving patients with hot food that is really "hot" and cold food that is chilled.

A dry-heat pellet system with fiberglass plate covers over Corningware dishes will be utilized to keep dishes hot until they reach bedsides.

Checking Over Final Details

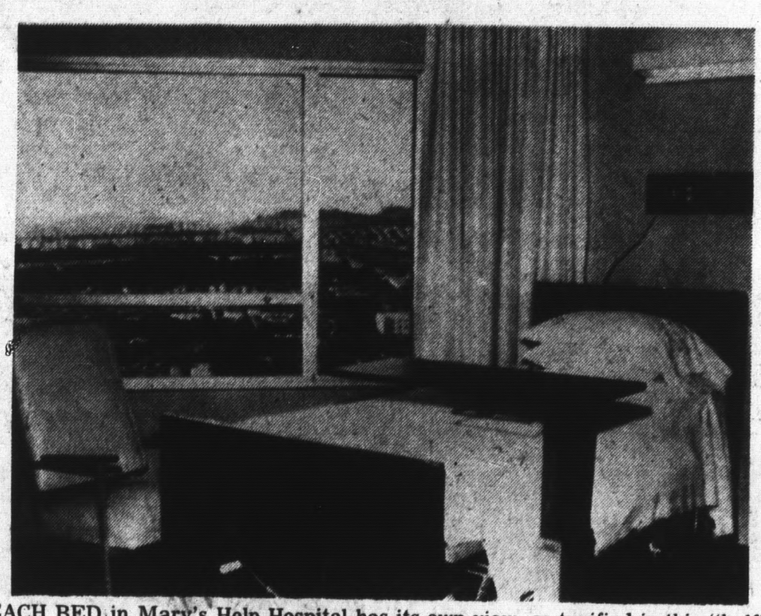
All the Comforts of Home



EACH BED in Mary's Help Hospital has its own view, as typified in this "half" of a two-bed room. View from the head of the bed is of the Pacific Ocean and the Lake Merced area. The two beds in the room can be separated by trolley curtains suspended from the ceiling. A push button intercom sytem enables each patient to talk directly to the attendant on duty in a nursing station. (Hal Randall Photo)

BUILT BY LATHROP

Building Time Was Almost 2½ Years

The general contractors for the new North County facility, F. P. Lathrop Construction Company, spent almost two years building what has been described as "the largest and most modern new hospital in the West."

The 250-bed hospital, expandable to 400 beds was designed by the architectural firm of Stone, Marraccini and Patterson.

The world's largest construction crane, 279 feet high, built in Germany, and capable of lifting 10-ton loads 270 feet was selected by Lathrop Construction Company due to the required reach over and around the building at any of the 11-story levels.

In addition, the selection of this crane was made to facilitate speed in construction.

It was used to erect jobsite fabricated precast panels, pour all the concrete, lift interior materials in bulk form to each floor-level for later use.

By use of Critical Path Method of Scheduling, Lathrop Construction Company held formal "Topping Off" ceremonies of the $8 million hospital six months ahead of schedule.

In spite of strikes and severe weather conditions, F. P. Lathrop Construction Company and Stone, Marraccini and Patterson and owner representatives, working together as a team, were able to deliver the hospital within contract time.

Library Is For Readers— Not Sleepers

"OUR LIBRARY in the new Mary's Help Hospital will be comfortable . . . but not too relaxing. We don't want to encourage dozing . . ."

Thus spoke Marie Abbruzzese, librarian for the picturesque hilltop medical center for North San Mateo County.

"It will be a single-purpose room," she went on, "devoted to reference and literary services to the staff. It is a beautiful room . . . with a lovely view whose distracting loveliness may prove more of a liability than an asset."

The function of the library, according to Miss Abbruzzese, "is to further the over-all pattern of the new hospital's administration, namely, to provide every possible facility that will enable the management to deliver the utmost in patient care."

"OUR PART in this effort," she continued, "is to assist the staff — doctors, interns, residents, technologists, nurses; in fact anyone who has any responsibility for the care of patients — in keeping abreast of any and all published reports on medical developments, and in the preparation of reference lists which save their time and minimize the possibility of overlooking important new developments in their respective fields."

"And when she isn't engaged in pouring over the veritable flood of valid periodical material, plus sales propaganda chit-chat that comes in every mail," said Miss Abbruzzese with a wry smile, "the librarian in a hospital keeps busy by assembling resource material for in-service programs, and by providing book-cart service to patients recreational therapy."

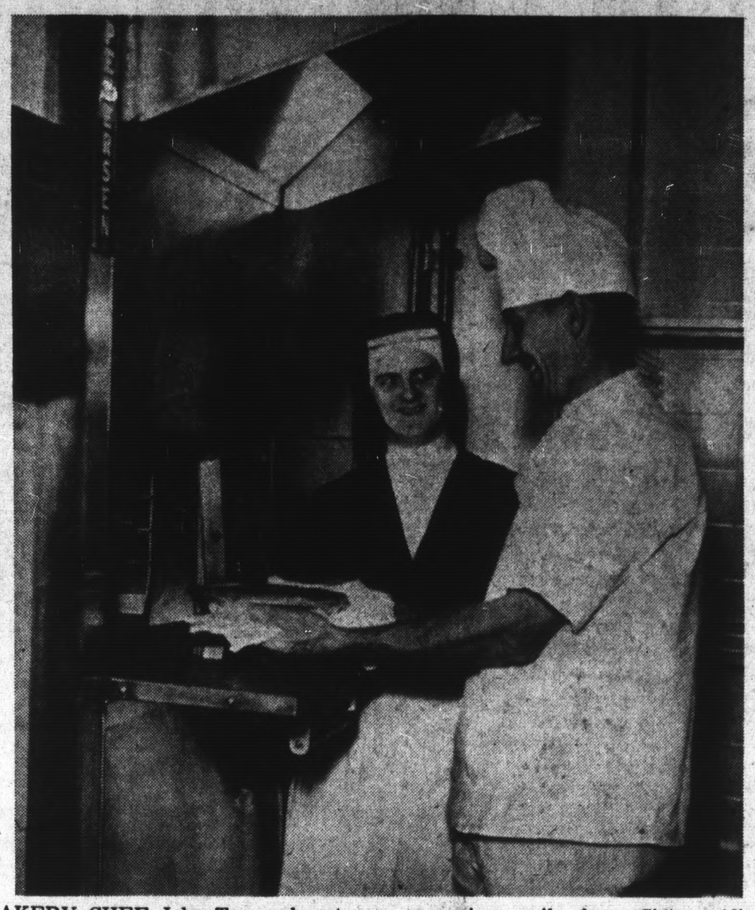
QUESTIONED ABOUT her personal concept of her position as hospital librarian, Miss Abbruzzese had this thought-provoking comment:

"Let me put it this way . . . in all modesty. I conceive of my job as something special . . . with a spiritual motivation, just as the dedicated Daughters of Charity are spiritually motivated. Each of them has given the Lord a blank check on her life . . . to do with it what He wills . . . in the service of mankind. They work long hours, Saturdays, and holidays, without any other reward than the satisfaction of a vocation fulfilled.

"And," she continued, "you can't work among such devoted people without absorbing some of their philosophy and spiritual motivation. You quickly learn that numerous patients are more than physically ill . . . that they need emotional and spiritual solace . . . and that many who are seriously ill become depressed and feel this, in fact, may be their last way-station on a long journey.

"So . . . in co-operation with three residents nuns whose primary function is to visit patients, I try to furnish appropriate religious reading matter. And you would be amazed to learn how many very ill patients — once their minds and hearts are at peace — get well! And surprisingly fast!"

A Culinary Delight



BAKERY CHEF John Tomczak gets an approving smile from Sister Alice Marie, head of the dietary department at Mary's Help Hospital, as he takes an aromatic pumpkin pie from a new, stainless steel oven in the hospital kitchen. The hospital will serve five meals a day, including "in-between" snacks, to patients not on restricted diets. (Hal Randall Photo)

Attending to a 'Patient'

"TENDING" to a "patient" during an open house tour at Mary's Help Hospital are Sister Louise, left, administrator of Mary's Help, and head nurse Louise Bugge. The role of "patient" is enacted by LeRoy Eyheralde, registered nurse. Members of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild served as guides for tours of the hospital during the open house programs. Sister Hermine On Duty At South American Post

Sister Hermine, Mary's Help Hospital administrator who is credited with playing the most important role in the decision to move the hospital to Daly City, has taken a new post in Quito, the capital city of Ecuador.

Sister Hermine had applied for missionary work. In Quito, she is in charge of nuns of thte Daughters of Charity, a Catholic order to which she belongs, in that area and directs the operation of a small hospital.

The then-present administrator of the Quito hospital became ill and Sister Hermine was asked to take over the post sooner than she had planned.

She had been scheduled to leave Mary's Help at the end of her six-year tenure, which would have expired this month.

In the structure of the Daughters of Charity, sisters change assignments at the end of each six years.

Sister Hermine has been succeeded at Mary's Help by Sister Louise.

A Great Achievement for the Daughters Of Charity

Who's the Real Nurse in This Picture?

WHO IS FOR real and who isn't? That's what visitors to Mary's Help Hospital were asking themselves during pre-opening open house tours when they stopped at this lifelike scene, set up in an operating room. All the figures in this scene are mannequins except one. Who's for real? She's the nurse at the left, Audrey Taylor, and she and her mannequin friends proved to be tour-stoppers during the pre-opening tours. The mannequins were supplied by the J. C. Penney Company in the Westlake Shopping Center. (Post-Times Photo)

LATEST EQUIPMENT

Surgery Facilities Spared No Cost

SISTER DOROTHY

NO EXPENSE has been spared to provide the latest equipment as an aid to competent surgery at the new Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City, according to Sister Dorothy, operating room supervisor, at the Daughters of Charity's latest link in a world-wide chain of hospitals.

"In addition to five conventional type operating tables," Sister Dorothy said, "we have just acquired two of the recently introduced electrically controlled operating tables . . . at a cost in excess of $7,000 each. I cite this as evidence of the determination of the Daughters of Charity to keep their historic world-wide chain of hospitals up-to-date and consistent with their credo of offering their patrons the ultimate in patient care.

"I don't know how unique they are, but we are acquiring approximately two thousand (2,000) brand new surgical instruments that will be the finest and most modern in their respective classes. We will have operating microscopes, with readily flexible adjustments for extremely delicate operations, such as eye or brain surgery. The new adhesive tape closure process is already being used by some doctors instead of the conventional suture stitching technique.

"IN SHORT," she said, "progress in surgery, as well as in post-operative therapy, has more than kept pace with the tremendous advances in all phases of medicine and the healing arts. Heart surgery and other complicated operations that were unknown a decade ago have become almost routine today."

The surgical department is located on the main floor, just a corridor length from the emergency entrance, which makes it quickly and easily accessible to all critically ill or injured who need immediate surgery.

Sister Dorothy received her Bachelor of Science degree from DePaul University, Chicago, and later returned there for postgraduate work in surgery supervision.

ASKED IF she had a personal philosophy about the vitally important work which she supervises, Sister Dorothy answered as follows

"Indeed I do! With every member of the operating team — the surgeon in charge, the assistant ,the anesthesiologist, the attending nurse, right on down to the scrub-up attendant — that every patient wheeled into the operating room is a human being who has put his life completely into our hands. By an unwritten but consecrated pact we know that we dare not fail him for to do so would be to fail ourselves."

17TH CENTURY ORIGIN

Order's History Is Marked By Love

THE HISTORY of the Daughters of Charity reaches back into the seventeenth century when visits to the sick and poor in their homes were undertaken in the name of charity.

The idea of having religious without the confines of a cloister, was unique and unheard of.

The first sisters went wherever their services were needed . . . to garrets, prisons, to the galley slaves and the poor.

Their origin as a little company of country girls, was humble and devoted towards the relief of the suffering and needy. At their head was an aristocratic French widow, Louise De Marillac, prepared by Vincent De Paul to further his work in the confraternities of charity which were springing up all over France.

When the confraternities were started, it was found that young village girls, responding to a vocation to devote themselves more fully for the relief of the suffering and sick, came to Louise and Vincent to give their lives in dedication of this work that they had heard about with the poor.

SO, QUITE unplanned for by Vincent and Louise, but certainly in the designs of divine providence, the company of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent De Paul was established on Nov. 29, 1633.

In their early foundation, not only were the sisters trained in virtue but Louise, herself, took on their rudimentary training as she sought to implement their work.

Preparing them to teach and to serve in every field of social work, she sent them to places where they could learn the newest nursing practices and preparation of medications.

3 Key Posts Are Filled

Three key appointments to the staff of Mary's Help Hospital were announced prior to the hospital's move to Daly City. The appointments were made by Sister Louise, hospital administrator.

Dr. John Phillip Roffinella was named chief of the Division of Oral Surgery and Dentistry of the Department of Surgery.

Dr. Reinold Jones was appointed chief of the Division of Thoracic Surgery of the Department of Surgery.

And Dr. Frank W. Lusignan was named head of the Division of Neurosurgery of the Department of Surgery.

Dr. Roffinella was a member of the Mary's Help staff from 1954 to 1956.

Dr. Jones served his internship and residency in general surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in San Francisco and was a staff member of Mary's Help Hospital from 1959 to 1963.

Dr. Lusignan has been on the consulting staff of Mary's Help since 1938.
